The cost of advices sent by post will be borne by the Company.

When not of a dangerous, perishable, or offensive character they will, however, be retained in the possession of the Railway for the same period as that prescribed for other unclaimed articles.

NOTIFICATIONS.

CUSTOMS—WAR.

Delhi, the 27th March 1920.

No. 2557-D.—The following extract from the Board of Trade Journal, dated the 19th February 1920, is published for general information :—

GOVERNMENT NOTICES AFFECTING TRADE.

IMPORT AND EXPORT SECTION.

TRADING WITH GERMANY.

The information as to the conditions under which commercial and financial transactions are permissible with German nationals and with persons and firms carrying on business in Germany, published in December last in a Parliamentary Return, Cmd. 512, is rendered out of date by the ratification of the Treaty of Peace with Germany and the issue of an Order-in-Council fixing 10th January, 1920 (the date on which the Treaty came into force) as the legal date of the termination of the war with that country.

Trade with Germany is in general no longer subject to any restrictions other than those imposed on trade with other foreign countries.

Any goods may be exported to Germany without licence, except goods on Lists A and B of Prohibited Exports,* and any goods may be imported into the United Kingdom from Germany except goods on the importation of which from all countries restrictions have been or may be imposed.

The following considerations must, however, be borne in mind in transacting business with German nationals :—

- (a) All property, rights, and interests within the British Empire belonging to German nationals at the date on which the Treaty of Peace came into force (namely, 10th January, 1920), unless acquired as the result of a transaction undertaken since the resumption of trade with Germany was authorised (i.e., since 12th July, 1919), are subject to charge under the Treaty of Peace Order, 1919, and no transaction of a commercial and financial nature is therefore permissible which involves the delivery, sale, or transfer of any such property, rights or interests.

* For the export to Germany of goods on Lists A and B export licences must be obtained from the Imports and Exports Licensing Section, Board of Trade, Great George Street, S. W. 1.

- (b) The settlement of all outstanding debts between British subjects resident within the United Kingdom, and German nationals resident in Germany, with the exception of debts arising out of transactions undertaken since 12th July, 1919, must be effected through the medium of the Clearing Office for Enemy Debts, and any transaction involving the settlement or transfer of such debts is prohibited.

Subject to such restrictions as may be imposed by the German authorities, individuals and firms of British nationality are at liberty to invest money in German businesses and to establish firms or agencies in Germany.

The freedom of Germans to trade, to carry on business, and to acquire property in the United Kingdom is limited by the following special restrictions imposed on nationals of Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey :—

- (a) For a period of three years from 23rd December, 1919, no national of the above-mentioned countries may enter the United Kingdom without a special licence or remain in this country for a longer period than three months, except as provided in Section 10 of the Aliens Restriction (Amendment) Act, 1919.
- (b) For a period of three years from 23rd December, 1919, no national of the above-mentioned countries will be permitted to acquire any interest in land, in any concern carrying on a "key industry" (as presently to be defined by the Board of Trade), or in any company owning a ship registered in the United Kingdom. [Fide Section 11 Aliens Restriction (Amendment) Act, 1919.]
- (c) For a period of five years after the termination of the war no business connected with certain non-ferrous metals and metallic ores may be carried on by, or under the influence or control of, a national of the above-mentioned countries, except under licence of the Board of Trade. [Fide Non-Ferrous Metal Industry Act, 1918, and Non-Ferrous Metal Industry Rules, 1918.]
- (d) For a period of five years after the termination of the war, and thereafter until Parliament may otherwise determine, no banking business may be carried on for the benefit or under the control of a national of the above-mentioned countries. [Fide Section 2, Trading with the Enemy Act, 1918, and Enemy Banking Business Rules, 1918.]
- (e) No national of the above-mentioned countries may act as master, officer, or member of the crew of a British ship registered in the United Kingdom. [Fide Section 12, Aliens Restriction (Amendment) Act, 1919.]

With the above reservations Germans are at liberty to acquire shares or interests in British firms or companies and to establish business houses or agencies in the United Kingdom, subject only to the same restrictions as aliens of any other nationality.

URGENT ORDERS.

The Import and Export Licensing Section, Board of Trade, announces that, in collaboration with the Department of Overseas Trade, an arrangement has been made whereby firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to the Department of Overseas Trade in order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Import and Export Licensing Section (Board of Trade) the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Orders, c/o Advantage, Stock, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and address of the ultimate consignee if the goods are destined for a neutral country. In the case of orders from Allied or British Territory or from Territory in the occupation of troops of the Associated Governments the consignee need not be stated; and it will be sufficient merely to give the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1/3) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Comptroller General, Department of Overseas Trade (Export Facilities Section), 85, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S. W. 1.

NOTIFICATION.

GENERAL.

Simla, the 8th April, 1920.

No. 305-G.—The following despatch to the Secretary of State relating to a new constitution for Burma is published for general information :—

No. 1-General, dated Delhi, the 25th March 1920.

From—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council,

To—The Right Honourable Edwin Montagu, His Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

We have the honour to lay before you our proposals for a new constitution for Burma.

2. In paragraph 198 of the Joint Report the problem of Burma's political evolution was set aside for separate and future consideration. The authors of the report took the view that Burma was not India, that its problems were altogether different, and that it was impossible to say how far their proposals would be applicable to Burma till the Government and the people of that province had had an opportunity of considering them. On the publication of the Report the Lieutenant-Governor of Burma took steps, by means of informal conferences, to ascertain the views held in Burma regarding the proposals of His Excellency and the Secretary of State, and subsequently in a resolution, which forms an enclosure to this despatch, he published for discussion and criticism a tentative scheme of reforms. This resolution was issued in December 1918 and in June of the following year, after consideration of the opinions which the scheme had elicited, the Lieutenant-Governor submitted to us his formal proposals for a new constitution.

3. These proposals are fully set out in the local Government's letter of the 2nd June 1919, of which we attach a copy. They included a wide extension of local self-government, and the establishment of a Legislative Assembly in which the elected element would have a substantial majority. Elections to the Legislative Assembly were to be direct, except in the case of the rural representatives who were to be elected by the District Councils. The power of the Governor to ensure the passing of legislation considered to be of essential importance was to be secured by providing that measures sanctioned by the Governor should become law unless opposed by a majority of two-thirds of the Assembly. The resolutions of the Assembly on the budget were to have the effect only of recommendations to the local Government, but it was contemplated that in practice the local Government would not disregard the clearly expressed wishes of the Legislature except on matters regarded as essential for the maintenance of peace and security. The most distinctive feature of the scheme, however, was the proposal for the creation of a system of Boards which were to exercise some of the powers now vested in the local Government. There were to be four such Boards, one for home affairs, one for local self-government, one for development and one for revenue and finance. Each Board was to be presided over by a non-official President chosen, except perhaps in the case of Europeans, from the non-official members of the Legislative Assembly. The other members of the Boards were to consist of Heads of Departments and Secretaries to the local Government. The official members were to exercise without reference to the Presidents the independent powers which they possess under the existing system, but in all matters, which lay beyond the powers appertaining to the head of the Department, no action was to be taken without the cognizance and participation of the non-official President. The decisions of the Board were to be in accordance with the opinion of the majority, but the non-official President was to be empowered to carry any case to the Lieutenant-Governor and to ask for his permission to over-rule the Board. It was recognized that the Boards contained no element of responsibility to the legislature. It was urged, however, that the Assembly would be able to express their disapproval of the administration of a President by an adverse vote, and that in this way a gradual advance towards responsible government would be secured. As regards its relations with India, separation was declared to be the ultimate goal to which Burma should look forward and, partly as a fitting recognition of this fact and, partly with the object of retaining for the provincial legislature and administration the ablest of her people, it was proposed that Burma should not be represented on the Indian Legislative Assembly. On the Council of State the Lieutenant-Governor asked for three seats, one of which was to be held by an officer of the Burman Commission attached to the Government of India to advise on all matters affecting the interests of Burma. It was claimed for this scheme that it was a preliminary advance towards responsible self-government; that it paved the way for further progress with the growth of experience and capacity amongst the people; and that it set the course of development of Burma and its people towards the realization of a separate national entity within the British Empire.

4. We recognized the great care and thought which had been expended on these proposals and, for reasons which we shall explain later, we took no objection to them on the ground that they differed profoundly from the scheme which has been adopted for the Indian provinces. Nevertheless there were features in them which we felt unable to accept. We thought that the system of Boards would prove to be an unwieldy method of Government and further that it was open to the criticism that it made no real advance in the direction of giving Burmans any power over the administration. The powers to be exercised by the Boards would be those which were delegated to them by the Head of the Government and the Head of the Government was to retain authority to withdraw any such powers from the Boards at his discretion. We doubted whether Burman opinion would be satisfied without a Governor in Council since any substitute would be regarded as of inferior dignity; and we were inclined to favour the establishment of an Executive Council, both on this ground, and on the ground that it would give the Burmans some measure of administrative control at the outset and that it would pave the way towards a further advance by the conversion, when the time came, of the non-official Councillors into Ministers. As regards the Legislature, we accepted the process of indirect election proposed in the case of the rural members as inevitable in the circumstances; but we thought that the procedure for ensuring the passing of legislation considered to be essential by the Government should be the same as in the case of the provincial legislative councils in India. We communicated these criticisms to the Lieutenant-Governor and asked for a further expression of his views.

5. The further views of the Lieutenant-Governor were submitted in a letter, dated January 22, 1920, of which a copy is attached to this despatch. In the interval the Report of the Joint Committee had appeared and the Lieutenant-Governor reviewed his scheme in the light both of our criticisms and of the recommendations of the Committee. He considered that the dualistic system adopted for the Indian provinces was quite inapplicable to political conditions in Burma, and he was also opposed to the establishment of an Executive Council. He urged that there were no persons who could be selected to fill the independent position of Ministers, and that even greater difficulty must attach to the selection of Executive Councillors to deal with both reserved and transferred subjects. He recognised, however, that the constitution of the Boards proposed by him gave an appearance of the President being always confronted with a majority of officials, and he proposed accordingly, while retaining four Boards as an essential and convenient means of administration, to reduce the membership of each Board to two, a non-official who would be the first Member of the Board and would also be termed a Minister, and an official who would be second Member of the Board. He recommended that the Head of the province should be empowered to appoint at the outset any persons, whether elected members of the Legislature or not, but proposed that at least three of the subsequent appointments should be made from the elected members of the Assembly. He claimed for this modified system that it would employ and train in responsible posts a maximum number of non-officials; that it enabled a gradual transfer of power to be carried out by means of further delegations; and that when conditions were ripe for this advance, it admitted of easy transformation into a constitution of Ministers or a constitution of Executive Councillors or a constitution which should include both Executive Councillors and Ministers. He adhered to his original proposal that since Burma was unable to provide a suitable number of representatives in the Legislative Assembly, it should be excluded from this body and suggested an arrangement under which Indian legislation would be extended to Burma after consultation with the Government of Burma and the Burma Legislative Assembly. On the Council of State he again asked that Burma should be given three representatives of whom one should represent Burman Commerce. Finally, he proposed that the title of the Viceroy should be altered to that of "Governor-General of India and Burma."

6. We recognised that those proposals were an improvement on those originally put forward by the Lieutenant-Governor. We could not, however, admit that our objections had been fully met, more particularly in regard to the form of executive government suggested. The system of Boards still appeared to us to be open to the criticism that at bottom all real power was retained in the hands of the Head of the Government. We were not convinced that the establishment of an Executive Council was impracticable and we were unable to accept the proposal that Burma should not be represented on the Indian Legislative Assembly. We felt, however, that it would be an advantage if the whole position could be discussed with the Lieutenant-Governor and we therefore invited Sir Reginald Craddock to Delhi so that we might have an opportunity of personal consultation with him before formulating our final proposals. We have now had a full discussion with the Lieutenant-Governor and we are glad to be able to inform you that we have arrived at substantial agreement with him as regards the lines on which the new constitution of Burma should be framed, and that we are now able to lay before you a scheme which in all its important features commends itself equally to the head of the provinces and to ourselves.

7. We accept in the first place the proposal of the Lieutenant-Governor that the title of the Viceroy should be altered to that of "Governor-General of India and Burma." Historically and geographically Burma is only by accident a part of the Indian Empire and we think that this alteration of the title of the Viceroy will be an appropriate means of recognizing its distinctive position. We are opposed, however, to taking any step which would prejudge the question of separation, and cannot therefore approve of the exclusion of Burma from the Indian Legislative Assembly, which measure would in our judgment be tantamount to recognizing that separation was inevitable at no distant date. Burma shares with India a common system of taxation for central purposes and its exclusion from the Assembly, which controls the allocation of the proceeds of taxation, could be justified only if it were treated as a temporary measure and as the prelude to early and complete separation. Burma is linked at present with India by many ties, foreign, military and commercial, which cannot be severed in the immediate future or till the conditions which make for union or separation are clearer than they are now. There is nothing in the present circumstances of Burma which necessitates an early decision and much which suggests the desirability of keeping an open mind in regard to a problem whose solution may depend so largely on future and unforeseeable developments. We may add that whilst the Lieutenant-Governor would still prefer that Burma should not be represented on the Legislative Assembly, he does not now press strongly for its exclusion.

8. As regards the provincial constitution, we are in full agreement with the Lieutenant-Governor as to the impossibility of imposing on Burma a constitution on the Indian model. In our judgment the facts set out in the Resolution and the letters of the Local Government place this conclusion beyond reasonable doubt. In political development Burma is at least a generation behind India. Broadly speaking, the people of Burma have had no electoral experience whatever. Local Self-Government has hitherto been confined to a few municipalities and little advantage has been taken of even the limited facilities thus afforded; while the Burma Legislative Council has never up to the present time included a single elected Burman. In other spheres of national life the backwardness of the Burmans is no less marked. In commerce and in administration all the prominent positions are filled by Europeans and Indians. The total number of Burman graduates has not yet reached 400; not a single Burman has passed the examination for the Indian Civil Service; whilst even at the Bar Burmans have been easily out-distanced by their Indian competitors. To impose on such a people a system of government in which persons without the requisite training or capacity would be called on to assume unaided the highest responsibilities would be an experiment too rash for statesmanship to contemplate. We must take the facts as they are; we must build on such foundation as actually exists; and there are at present no foundations on which the elaborate structure of the Indian system could be superimposed. The new constitution should be framed on as generous lines as possible and should admit of progressive liberalisation with the growth of experience and capacity amongst the people. But it is equally essential that in framing it, due account should be taken of the political immaturity of the people. We are anxious that the advance towards responsible government should be as rapid as we can make it, but nothing will be gained by attempting to force the pace to an extent which ignores the governing conditions of the problem. India has had to pass through a long course of political training before it was found possible to confer on her the reforms which have now been embodied in the Government of India Act; and though we hope and believe that in Burma this stage can be curtailed considerably, we do not think that it can be dispensed with entirely. We aim at giving the Burmans a control over the administration far larger than they have hitherto enjoyed, but before we can concede to them the same measure of responsible government as we are about to confer on the Indian provinces, there must be an intermediate period of preparation and training. This conclusion appears to us to be entirely consistent with the recommendation of the Joint Committee. The term "analogous" employed by the Committee is doubtless in itself susceptible of more than one interpretation; but the Committee have explicitly recognised the differences between India and Burma and we read it, therefore, not as connoting identity or even close similarity, but, rather, as indicating that in their opinion the Burmans should receive a constitution as liberal having regard to the relative political development of the province as that which has been granted to their Indian fellow subjects. We are confident that the proposals which we shall now proceed to describe will satisfy this condition.

9. We contemplate first a wide extension of local self-government on the lines proposed by the Lieutenant-Governor. We attach importance to this part of our programme of reforms, not only as a means of conferring control over local affairs, but also because it is on the local bodies that we must primarily rely for the development of administrative capacity and electoral experience amongst the people. The Municipal Act will now be extended to all urban areas of any size and importance; all municipal committees will be mainly elective and almost entirely non-official; and all municipal officials will be appointed by the Committees themselves. Such control as it will still be necessary to retain will thus be exercised in future from without and not from within. In rural areas much of the powers in local affairs hitherto exercised by the Deputy Commissioner will be entrusted to Circle Boards and District Councils. Circle Boards will be constituted from members elected by groups of village tracts and the electorate will comprise all residents in each group who are assessed to capitation tax or thathameda or income-tax or who have been exempted from such taxation on grounds other than poverty. The District Council will consist of representatives elected by the Circle Boards and members returned by each Municipal area in the district. It will supervise and be responsible for the working of the Circle Boards, whose functions in the main will be those delegated to them by the Council; and it will administer such local matters as vernacular education, sanitation, roads, etc. These measures will give Burma a system of local self-government as extensive and as liberal as that of any province in India.

10. The Burma Legislative Council was created in 1897. As first constituted, it consisted of 9 nominated members, 4 of whom were officials. In 1909 the membership of the Council was increased to 17 and in 1915 to 19. As late, however, as 1916 the only elected members of the Council were two Europeans, and the sole representatives of the indigenous races were two Burmans, one Karen and a Shan Chief. Burma has thus never had a Council of the kind which was established in India by the Morley-Minto Reforms. In substance its Legislative Council has conformed to the pre-1909 type. It might therefore appear that the most natural line of advance would be to convert the existing Council into a Legislature in which the elected element would be about as large as in the present Legislative Councils of Bombay and Bengal. We have considered, but have rejected, a suggestion to this effect. We think that Burma has deserved and should receive a Legislature in which the elected members will have a substantial majority. Nothing less will satisfy the legitimate sentiment of the Burma people or provide that measure of popular control to which, despite their political immaturity, they can fairly lay claim. The proposals of the local Government fulfil this condition. They have been worked out with great care and we think they may be accepted as suitable and satisfactory. In their latest form they provide for a Council of 92 composed as follows:—

A. Electoral Members.

1. One district representative from every district that has a District Council	31
2. Urban representatives	10
3. Two elected members of the Burma Chamber of Commerce	2
4. One elected member of the Rangoon Trades Association	1
5. One representative of the Burma Educational Syndicate, and later of the University when established	1
6. (a) One elected member of the European community, a European being defined as a person of European parentage on both sides	1
7. (b) One elected member of the Anglo-Indian community	1
Total elected members	56

B. Nominated Members.

7. (a) Twelve non-officials nominated by the local Government for races or interests inadequately represented by the elected members	12
7. (b) One European member to represent one branch of commerce not represented by the elected commercial members	1
7. (c) Three members (one Burmese, one Indian and one Chinese) to represent branches of commerce in which the Burmese, Indian and Chinese communities are specially interested	3
8. Two experts, official or non-official	2
9. Twelve officials	12
Total nominated members	30

C. Ex-officio members.

Six members of executive council	6
or including the Governor	93

The elected members will thus form 60 per cent. of the Council, a proportion not far short of that prescribed by the Government of India Act for the provincial Legislative Councils. We recognize the objections to the election of the rural representatives by the District Councils. As you are aware, we have never favoured the method of indirect election and have opposed its application to the Indian Legislative Assembly and to the Council of State. But in the case of Burma we see no alternative to its adoption. It is not possible, for the reasons explained in paragraph 24 of the local Government's letter of January 22, to base the electoral rolls on the assessments of land revenue and on the other hand the thathameda or capitation-tax rolls, which are the only materials available for the purpose, would yield a rural electorate of about 2,000,000. The largest rural electorate proposed for any Indian province does not include more than 1,000,000 voters in a population of 45,000,000. We could not recommend for a province which has as yet had no experience of elections even to a District Council, an electorate based on household suffrage; nor has the province the administrative machinery which would be required for the conduct of elections in which the average number of voters in each constituency would be 64,000.

* 11. We propose that the control of the Legislature over legislation should be the same as that exercisable by the Indian provincial Legislative Councils. The power of the Government to ensure the passing of legislation regarded by it as essential should be secured by a provision on the lines of section 13 of the Government of India Act. Provision should also be made for optional and compulsory reservation of Bills as in section 12 of that Act. We consider, however, that the resolutions of the Council regarding the budget should have the effect only of recommendations to the local Government. We should not expect the Government to disregard, save for strong reasons, the clearly expressed wishes of the Council; but the function of giving or withholding the supplies necessary for the carrying on of Government is not one that can at the outset be entrusted to inexperienced hands and we think that for the present at any rate statutory control over the proceeds of taxation should not be conceded to the new Council.

12. We pass now to the structure of the Executive Government. The system of Boards, even in the modified form proposed in the local Government's letter of January 22, seemed to us open to two criticisms. In the 1st place, the position of the Presidents would still be merely that of Secretaries to a local Government, entitled to refer matters to the head of the province, but not authorised to over-rule the heads of departments with whom they were to be associated. Secondly, it fails to satisfy the demand for a Governor in Council for which Burman opinion would certainly, and, we think, rightly press. On the other hand we are anxious to retain what we regard as the valuable feature in the system, viz., the association with each non-official member of an official colleague. If there were men available amongst the Burmans capable of assuming unaided the duties of Executive Councillors, we should have had no hesitation in recommending the appointment of an Executive Council of the ordinary type and indeed of all probability of Ministers too. But there are in fact no such Burmans at present, nor are they likely to be forthcoming for a number of years yet; and it is not possible therefore to set up an Executive Council in which the non-official members would be in sole charge of their departments. The solution is to be found in the division of the Executive Council into departmental committees. Our proposal is that the Government of Burma should in future consist of a Governor and an Executive Council and that the Executive Council should be divided into committees each of which would contain one official and one non-official member. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that a Council of six members (which would absorb certain departmental offices such as those of the Development and Financial commissioners) would be adequate, and we propose therefore that the strength of the Council should be fixed at this number, and that there should be three committees, one for home affairs and local self-Government, one for revenue and finance and one for development. As in the normal form of Council Government, the Governor himself would administer certain subjects such as the Shan States, frontier and hill tracts and the army and marine. The members of each committee would have equal powers; but the non-official member would be the senior member. In the event of any difference of opinion between the members of the committee, either member would be entitled to refer the question in issue to the Governor but—and here our scheme differs radically from that originally proposed by the Lieutenant-Governor—he would also, if not willing to defer to the views of the Governor, have the right to demand that the matter should be taken in full Council. Decisions in Council would be those of the majority but the Governor would have the emergency power conferred by section 50 (2) of the Government of India Act. For the present at any rate we recommend that one non-official should be a European and that two should be Burmans. All members of the Council should be appointed by the Crown on the advice of the Governor and should receive the same pay which might suitably be fixed at Rs. 4,000 per mensem.

13. In the selection of non-official members we would not restrict the field of choice to the elected members of the Legislature. It should be open to the Governor to recommend for appointment any suitable person, whether an elected member of the Legislature or not. But we would further lay down that an elected member of the Legislative Council should, if appointed to be a member of the Executive Council, resign his elective seat on the Legislative Council. Parliament has already accepted our view that it is impossible to reconcile amenability to the Legislature with the position of a member of an Executive Council. The attempt to combine responsibilities so incompatible could only lead to that particular type of dead-lock which was the cardinal weakness of the scheme of the five Governors. A dualism would at once be established, but of a particularly unsatisfactory type, since the two elements in the Government would have no separate spheres of work and would be liable to come into conflict over the whole range of their duties. When a stage has been reached in the political development of Burma at which the non-official members of the Council can be relieved of their official colleagues, the way will lie open for the appointment of full-blown ministers. Our scheme is designed only to meet the requirements of the period of transition and training which still lies before us, and is consistent with whatever line of advance may be found to be the most promising. But it is none the less important that the Government to be set up in Burma should not prove unequal to the tasks which will confront it, and we can conceive of nothing more likely to imperil its chances of success than a form of dualism which would reduce the Executive to impotence.

14. This concludes our proposals for the new constitution. They differ in many respects, the importance of which we do not seek to minimise, from the scheme of reforms which has been approved for India. But we hold that the differences are no greater than the disparity in political conditions warrants. Relatively to these conditions the advance will be at least as great in the case of Burma as in that of the Indian provinces. Burma will secure at one stroke a wide extension of local self-Government, a Legislature in which the elected element will have a substantial majority and the control of legislation, and an Executive Government in which the official element will have only a bare preponderance. We believe that these reforms will be recognized as adequate and indeed generous by all moderate Burman opinion and we trust that they will commend themselves to your judgment.

Secretary to the Government of India.

1. The Governor-General in Council is pleased hereby to declare that acetylene, when liquid or when subject to a pressure above that of the atmosphere capable of supporting a column of water exceeding two hundred and fifty inches in height, and whether or not in admixture with other substances, or when in admixture with atmospheric air or with oxygen gas in whatever proportion and at whatever pressure, and whether or not in admixture with other substances, shall be deemed to be an explosive within the meaning of the said Act as applied, subject to the following exception, that if it be shown to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council that acetylene declared to be an explosive by this notification when in admixture with any substance, or in any form or condition, is not possessed of explosive properties, the Governor-General in Council may, by order, exempt such acetylene from being deemed to be an explosive within the meaning of the said Act as applied.

Provided that nothing in this notification shall apply to acetylene in admixture with air when such admixture takes place only in a burner or contrivance in which the mixture is intended to be burnt:

Provided also, that nothing in this notification shall be held to apply to an admixture of acetylene and air which may unavoidably occur in the first use or re-charging of an apparatus properly designed and constructed with a view to the production of pure acetylene:

* Provided also, that acetylene, when in admixture with oil-gas (that is to say, a gas manufactured from mineral oil), shall not when under compression be deemed to be an explosive within the meaning of the said Act, as applied, if the following conditions are fulfilled, namely:—

- (1) The acetylene shall be generated only by the Atkins Dry Process.
- (2) The proportion of acetylene shall not exceed fifty parts by volume in every one hundred parts of the mixture of acetylene and oil-gas.
- (3) The acetylene and oil-gas shall be mixed together in a chamber or vessel before the gases are subjected to compression.
- (4) The mixture shall not be compressed to a pressure exceeding one hundred and fifty pounds to one square inch:

Provided also, that acetylene when contained in a homogeneous porous substance with or without acetone or other solvent, shall not be deemed to be an explosive within the meaning of the said Act as applied if the following conditions are fulfilled, namely:—

- (1) The porous substance shall fill as completely as possible the cylinder into which the acetylene is compressed.
- (2) The porosity of the substance shall not exceed eighty per cent.
- (3) Any acetone or other solvent used shall not be capable of chemical reaction with the acetylene gas, or with the porous substance or with the metal of the cylinder, and the quantity of acetone or other solvent shall be such that when fully charged with acetylene it shall not completely fill the porosity of the porous substance at any temperature likely to be met with in ordinary practice or use.

(4) A drawing showing the method of construction of every type of cylinder it is proposed to use for the storage of compressed acetylene gas shall be deposited with the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India and no cylinder shall be so used unless it is of a design approved in writing by the said Chief Inspector.

Provided that this shall not be deemed to prohibit the use of existing cylinders for a period of five years from the date of this notification.

(5) The pressure in the cylinder shall not exceed two hundred and twenty-five pounds to the square inch at a temperature of sixty degrees Fahrenheit:

Provided that no cylinder capable when empty of containing one cubic foot of water or more, which has the ends secured to the body by welding only, and no cylinder in which a porous substance is used without acetone or other solvent shall be charged to a pressure exceeding one hundred and fifty pounds to the square inch at a temperature of sixty degrees Fahrenheit.

(6) Every cylinder capable when empty of containing one cubic foot of water or more, in which under this notification the pressure allowed may be two hundred and twenty-five pounds to the square inch, shall be annealed and every cylinder shall be tested by hydraulic pressure to a pressure of not less than four times the pressure to which the cylinder is to be subjected in use, such hydraulic pressure to be maintained for a period of not less than fifteen minutes and no cylinder shall be used which on the first occasion of its being subjected to this test shall show any permanent stretch.

(7) The compression of the acetylene shall be carried out only on such premises as shall have been approved in writing by the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India. Such approval may be withdrawn at any time by that officer.

(8) No firm shall charge with acetylene any cylinder manufactured by any other firm unless it is in full possession of full particulars and previous history of such cylinder or has otherwise assured itself that the cylinder complies with the requirements of this notification.

(9) Whenever a cylinder is charged with acetylene it shall be subjected to a thorough visual examination if the history of the cylinder shows that it has not been subjected to such an examination within the previous twelve months and at the same time the valve shall be removed and the condition of the porous substance at the neck of the cylinder ascertained.

(10) Every cylinder shall have permanently and conspicuously marked upon it or upon a brass plate soldered to it the name of the manufacturer and the words "Acetylene compressed into porous substance exempted by the notification of the Government of India in the Foreign and Political Department No. 280-I.B., dated the 8th April 1920"; and every cylinder shall bear a label giving the date when it was last charged together with the name of the firm by which it was charged, the address of the last charging station and the maximum pressure allowed in the cylinder. Every cylinder capable when empty of containing one cubic foot of water or more and manufactured after the date of this notification shall have stamped upon it the name or the trade mark of the manufacturer and the serial number of the cylinder.

(11) Each charging firm shall keep a record of every cylinder charged by it. This record shall give the following information, namely:—

- (a) the date of each charging of the cylinder;
- (b) the dates upon which solvent has been added;
- (c) the dates upon which the cylinder has been thoroughly examined as provided in condition (9), the results of each such examination, and the name of the person carrying out such examination; and, in the case of cylinders first issued by the firm, the tare weight of the cylinder including porous substance and acetone or other solvent, the nature of the solvent and the maximum pressure allowed in the cylinder. The record shall be open to the inspection of the Chief Inspector of Explosives and Inspectors of Explosives with the Government of India.

(12) Every facility shall be given to the Chief Inspector of Explosives and Inspectors of Explosives with the Government of India to inspect the apparatus and methods by which the cylinders are charged.

II. The Governor-General in Council is pleased to prohibit absolutely the manufacture, possession and importation of such acetylene as is declared by paragraph I of this notification to be an explosive.

AND WHEREAS His Majesty is advised that the Government of the United States of America has undertaken, upon issue of this Order, to extend the protection afforded by the United States Law of December 18, 1919, entitled "An Act to amend Sections 8 and 21 of the Copyright Act, approved March 4, 1909," to British subjects:

URGENT ORDERS.

The Import and Export Licensing Section, Board of Trade, announces that, in collaboration with the Department of Overseas Trade, an arrangement has been made whereby firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to the Department of Overseas Trade in order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Import and Export Licensing Section (Board of Trade) the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Orders, c/o Advantage, Stock, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and address of the ultimate consignee if the goods are destined for a neutral country. In the case of orders from Allied or British Territory or from Territory in the occupation of troops of the Associated Governments the consignee need not be stated; and it will be sufficient merely to give the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1/3) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Comptroller General, Department of Overseas Trade (Export Facilities Section), 85, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S. W.-1.

For cool courage and continual good work during the campaign of 1918. On 19th September, during the attack on the coastal sector, Palestine, when heavy enemy barrage endangered loss of touch between his battalion and the battalion on the left, he collected the nearest men, and led them straight through the barrage, thereby maintaining touch and direction.

On the night 18th-19th September, 1918, he displayed conspicuous gallantry in charge of stretcher bearers. He has invariably done exceedingly good work, and showed great coolness and devotion to duty under fire.

He did very good work during the advance of September and October, 1918. During the attack on the morning of the 19th September he showed great courage under fire and capabilities as a machine-gun section sergeant. Near Ras El Ain, in the machine-gun barrage, he took over command of two guns, owing to the heavy fire of the enemy's artillery, and ensured that the allotted tasks were carried out correctly.

JUDICIAL.

The 17th April, 1920.

No. 736.—The following Order of His Majesty the King in Council regulating the practice in appeals to His Majesty in Council is published for general information:—

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 9th day of February 1920.

Present:

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

Whereas by an Act passed in the 4th year of the reign of His Majesty King William IV, entitled "an Act for the better Administration of Justice in His Majesty's Privy Council" it is, amongst other things, enacted that it shall be lawful for His Majesty in Council from time to time to make any such Rules and Orders as may be thought fit for regulating the mode, form and time of appeal to be made from the decisions of any Courts of Judicature in India (from the decisions of which an Appeal lies to His Majesty in Council), and in like manner from time to time to make such other Regulations for the preventing delays in the making or hearing such Appeals and as to the expenses attending the said Appeals and as to the amount or value of property in respect of which any such Appeal may be made:

And whereas Her Majesty Queen Victoria did by Her Order in Council of the 10th day of April, 1838, approve certain Rules and Orders for regulating the mode, form and time of Appeal from the decisions of the said Courts and also certain Regulations for the preventing delays in the making or hearing such Appeals and as to the expenses attending such Appeals and as to the amount or value of property in respect of which any such Appeal may be made :

And whereas the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council hath deemed it expedient to rescind all the said Rules, Orders and Regulations and to substitute others in lieu thereof :

His Majesty is, therefore, pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to rescind all the said Rules, Orders and Regulations in the said Order in Council of the 10th day of April, 1838, contained, and to approve of the several Rules, Orders and Regulations contained in the Schedule hereto, and to order as it is hereby ordered, that the same be respectively observed by all Courts of Judicature in India and by all persons whom it shall or may concern.

Whereof the Governor-General of India in Council, and all other persons whom it may concern, are to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

ALMERIC FITZROY.

The Schedule above referred to.

1. Applications to the Court for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council shall be made within 90 days of the decree or order to be appealed from, subject to the provisions of Sections 4, 5 and 12 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908.

2. The preparation of the Record shall be subject to the supervision of the Court, and the parties may submit any disputed question arising in connection therewith to the decision of the Court, and the Court shall give such directions thereon as the justice of the case may require.

3. The Registrar, as well as the parties and their legal Agents, shall endeavour to exclude from the Record all documents (more particularly such as are merely formal) that are not relevant to the subject-matter of the Appeal, and, generally, to reduce the bulk of the Record as far as practicable, taking special care to avoid the duplication of documents and the unnecessary repetition of headings and other merely formal parts of documents ; but the documents omitted to be copied or printed shall be enumerated in a manuscript list to be transmitted with the Record.

4. Where in the course of the preparation of a Record one party objects to the inclusion of a document on the ground that it is unnecessary or irrelevant and the other party nevertheless insists upon its being included, and the Court allows the document to be included, the Record, as printed (whether in India or in England), shall, with a view to the subsequent adjustment of the costs of and incidental to such document, indicate in the index of papers, or otherwise, the fact that, and the party by whom, the inclusion of the document was objected to.

5. Where the Record is printed in India, the Registrar shall, at the expense of the Appellant, transmit to the Registrar of the Privy Council 40 copies of such Record, one of which copies he shall certify to be correct by signing his name on, or initialling every eighth page thereof and by affixing thereto the seal, if any, of the Court.

6. Where the Record is to be printed in England, the Registrar shall, at the expense of the Appellant, transmit to the Registrar of the Privy Council one certified copy of such Record, together with an index of all the papers and exhibits in the case. No other certified copies of the Record shall be transmitted to the Agents in England by or on behalf of the parties to the Appeal.

7. Where there are two or more Appeals arising out of the same matter, and the Court is of opinion that it would be for the convenience of the Lords of the Judicial Committee and all parties concerned that the Appeals should be consolidated, the Court may direct the Appeals to be consolidated.

8. An Appellant who has obtained a certificate for the admission of an Appeal may at any time prior to the making of an Order admitting the Appeal withdraw the Appeal on such terms as to costs and otherwise as the Court may direct.

9. Where an Appellant, having obtained a certificate for the admission of an Appeal, fails to furnish the security or make the deposit required (or apply with due diligence to the Court for an Order admitting the Appeal), the Court may, on its own motion or on an application in that behalf made by the Respondent, cancel the certificate for the admission of the Appeal, and may give such directions as to the costs of the Appeal and the security entered into by the Appellant as the Court shall think fit, or make such further or other Order in the premises as, in the opinion of the Court, the justice of the case requires.

10. An Appellant whose Appeal has been admitted shall prosecute his Appeal in accordance with the Rules for the time being regulating the general practice and procedure in Appeals to His Majesty in Council.

11. Where an Appellant, whose Appeal has been admitted, desires, prior to the dispatch of the Record to England, to withdraw his Appeal, the Court may, upon an application in that behalf made by the Appellant, grant him a certificate to the effect that the Appeal has been withdrawn, and the Appeal shall thereupon be deemed, as from the date of such certificate, to stand dismissed without express Order of His Majesty in Council, and the costs of the Appeal and the security entered into by the Appellant shall be dealt with in such manner as the Court may think fit to direct.

12. Where an Appellant, whose Appeal has been admitted, fails to show due diligence in taking all necessary steps in connection with the preparation of the Record, the Court may, either on its own motion or on the application of the Respondent, call upon the Appellant to show cause why a certificate should not be issued that the Appeal has not been effectually prosecuted by the Appellant, and if the Court sees fit to issue such a certificate, the Appeal shall be deemed, as from the date of such certificate, to stand dismissed for non-prosecution without express Order of His Majesty in Council, and the costs of the Appeal and the security entered into by the Appellant shall be dealt with in such manner as the Court may think fit to direct.

13. Where at any time between the admission of an Appeal and the dispatch of the Record to England the Record becomes defective by reason of the death, or change of status, of a party to the Appeal, the Court may notwithstanding the admission of the Appeal, on an application in that behalf made by any person interested, grant a certificate showing who, in the opinion of the Court, is the proper person to be substituted, or entered, on the Record, in place of, or in addition to, the party who has died, or undergone a change of status, and the name of such person shall thereupon be deemed to be so substituted or entered on the Record as aforesaid without express Order of His Majesty in Council. If, in the opinion of the Court, there has been undue delay in making this application, the Court may order the Appellant, or the party interested, to take all necessary steps to perfect the Record within such time as the Court may direct, and, if he fails to comply with such Order, the Court may call upon him to show cause why a certificate should not be issued that the Appeal has not been effectually prosecuted, and if the Court sees fit to issue such a certificate, the Appeal shall be deemed, as from the date of such certificate, to stand dismissed for non-prosecution without express Order of His Majesty in Council, and the costs of the Appeal and the security entered into by the Appellant shall be dealt with in such manner as the Court may think fit to direct.

14. Where the Record subsequently to its dispatch to England becomes defective by reason of the death, or change of status, of a party to the Appeal, the Court may, upon an application in that behalf made by any person interested, cause a certificate to be transmitted to the Registrar of the Privy Council showing who, in the opinion of the Court, is the proper person to be substituted, or entered, on the Record, in place of, or in addition to, the party who has died, or undergone a change of status. If, in the opinion of the Court, there has been undue delay in making this application, the Court may order the Appellant, or the party interested, to take all necessary steps to perfect the Record within such time as the Court may direct, and, if he fails to comply with such Order, the Court shall report the matter to the Registrar of the Privy Council.

15. These Rules shall come into operation on the 1st day of January, 1921, or on such other date as the Governor General of India in Council may determine.

POLICE.

The 23rd April, 1920.

No. 719.—The following regulations relating to appointments to the Indian (Imperial) Police Service in 1920 are published for general information.

2. The Secretary of State for India in Council proposes not to hold any competitive examination during the year 1920, for admission into the Indian (Imperial) Police Service, but to make a number of appointments of probationers by nomination as described below from among gentlemen who have rendered military service during the war.

3. Number of appointments.—Appointments will be made in the United Kingdom by the Secretary of State for India in Council and in India by the Government of India from among candidates who at the time of application were resident in India or adjacent countries, including Mesopotamia. The precise number of appointments to be made in the United Kingdom and in India will be announced hereafter.

4. Method of application for appointments made in the United Kingdom.—For the appointments to be made in the United Kingdom a qualifying examination will be held, for admission to which applications must be made to the Civil Service Commissioners, London, on the prescribed form, accompanied by a fee of 1s. The application form must reach the Civil Service Commissioners not later than the 29th May 1920.

5. *Method of application for appointments made in India.—Applications must be made on the annexed form (copies of which can be obtained on application to the nearest staff officer) to the Adjutant General in India, Simla. Such applications will be accepted up to the 15th June 1920 from candidates in India and up to the 30th June 1920 from candidates overseas. Candidates will in due course receive from the Adjutant General in India, any further information or instructions that may be necessary.

[Warning.—Any attempt on the part of a candidate to enlist support for his application through officers of Government or other influential persons will disqualify him for appointment. The Selection Committee will disregard spontaneous recommendations from persons who are not personally acquainted with the candidate's work, whether at school, at the University, in the Forces, or otherwise.]

6. Conditions of eligibility.—

(a) Every candidate must have been born on or after 2nd June 1894 and on or before 1st August 1900.

(b) Every candidate must be a British subject and at the time of his birth his father must also have been a British subject.

(c) Every candidate must have served in His Majesty's Naval, Military, or Air Forces during the war.

(d) Every candidate must be of good character in civil and military life.

(e) Candidates for the appointments made in India by the Government of India must satisfy the latter, or the Selection Committee appointed by them on that behalf, that they have received whole-time, continuous and systematic education up to the age of 18, or until the date of entering His Majesty's Forces, whichever is the earlier, and must undergo a qualifying examination* in English, Arithmetic and General Knowledge. English will include essay writing, précis writing and other tests. General knowledge will include matters historical, economic, social, political, geographical and scientific.

* Rules applicable to the case of Indian candidates were published in a Press Communiqué on the 21st November 1919.

7. Those candidates who satisfy all the conditions referred to above and are considered suitable will be summoned to an interview before a Selection Committee who will prepare a list of candidates suitable for appointment, subject to medical examination, and submit their recommendations for the orders of the Government of India.

Note.—A candidate who applied for appointment in 1919 but was not selected is not debarred from applying again for one of the appointments to be made in 1920.

8. Medical Examination.—Candidates who are recommended for appointment will be required to undergo an examination as to their physique and capacity for active out-door work in the plains of India.

9. Riding.—Selected candidates will be required either to give satisfactory proof of their ability to ride or to undergo such riding tests as may be hereafter prescribed.

10. Allotment to Provinces.—Selected candidates will be allotted as probationers to the various provinces in India upon a consideration of all the circumstances including their own wishes; but the requirements of the public service will rank before every other consideration. The allotments will also be subject to the right of the Government of India to make transfers, if necessary.

11. (a) Uniform.—It is an ordinary condition of appointment that a successful candidate shall provide himself, or be provided by his parents or guardians, with his uniform or the cost thereof. Government makes a contributory grant of £30 towards the cost of uniform.

(b) Horse and Saddlery.—A successful candidate must, when required to do so by Government, provide himself with a suitable horse and saddlery at his own expense. Local Governments in India are authorised to make to a newly-appointed officer a grant of a sum not exceeding Rs600 towards the cost of such horse and saddlery.

12. Joining the Police Service.—Subject to what is stated in the next paragraph as regards the taking of leave before joining civil appointment, probationers will be required to join their appointments, if possible, within a short time of their final selection. Failure to do this will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

13. Leave before joining civil appointment.—Each selected candidate will be granted leave at the rate of one month for each year of military service subsequent to his last departure from England, subject to a maximum of four months. He will receive, while on leave, the full pay of his new civil appointment. Every selected candidate who has earned the full period of leave admissible will be required to take it immediately after his release from military service and before joining his civil appointment. A selected candidate who has earned less than the maximum of four months will have the option of either taking the amount earned forthwith, or of joining his civil appointment with that amount to his credit and taking it later combined with civil leave earned in the meanwhile. In such a case combined leave on full pay will be limited to four months.

As the restriction of this concession to military service subsequent to a candidate's last departure from England might operate harshly in some cases, the Secretary of State has authorised the Government of India to relax this condition where it is considered necessary.

* The qualifying examination will begin on the 29th July 1920 at centres to be notified hereafter.

Any officer taking leave under these arrangements will receive a free passage from England to India on the expiry of his leave. In the event of his being discharged from the police service within three years of the date of his appointment on any ground other than that of ill-health, he will be liable to refund to the Government the cost of any free passage granted him under these leave rules.

14. Rates of pay, and pay during probation.— The rates of pay are set out in Appendix I.

In the case of candidates selected under these Regulations, the following modification of the normal scale has been approved. Those whose ages on the 1st August preceding their reporting themselves for duty were as stated below will receive pay in the time scale as follows, viz. :—

Age.	Pay.
	Rs.
20, 21 and 22 years	325
23 and 24	350
25 and 26	375

} a month plus an overseas allowance of Rs 125 a month in the case of officers of non-Indian domicile.

The pay of a probationer commences from the date on which he reports to the authorities for duty.

APPENDIX II. (See para. 19 of the Regulations.)

(Note.—Appendices II and III are merely intended to show the principal leave and pension rules in the Civil Service Regulations at present applicable to the Indian (Imperial) Police Service without going into minute details, and do not profess to deal with every case that may arise. The rules are subject to alteration, and any disputed question must be decided with reference to the authorised text of the Civil Service Regulations for the time being.)

LEAVE.

1. The following is a summary of the principal regulations relating to the leave admissible to officers appointed to the Indian (Imperial) Police Service.

Long Leave.

2. Furlough with allowances (see para. 5) is admissible to an aggregate maximum amount of six years during an officer's service.

3. The amount of furlough "earned" is one-fourth of an officer's active service, and the amount "due" is that amount less any enjoyed.

4. Except as provided in Rule 7, furlough without medical certificate is limited to the amount "due" and may not exceed two years at a time. On medical certificate furlough may be extended to three years.

5. The allowances admissible during furlough are—

(1) During any period of furlough not exceeding two years half average salary, subject to certain maximum and (in the case of furlough with medical certificate) minimum limits.

(2) After the expiration of the first two years of any period of furlough, one quarter of average salary, subject to certain maximum and minimum limits.

6. Furlough on half average salary (see para. 5) may be commuted into leave on higher pay subject to the following conditions:—

(1) The leave on higher pay, or "commuted furlough," is fixed at one-half of the furlough commuted.

- (2) The amount of furlough which may be commuted during an officer's total service is limited to two years.
 - (3) The commuted furlough will carry an allowance at the rate of average salary, subject to a maximum of 2,400% a year.
 - (4) Subject to special consideration in exceptional circumstances, an officer must have six months' furlough at his credit at the end of the "commuted furlough," or any leave granted to him in continuation of it.
 - (5) In any one period of leave not more than eight months may be spent on "commuted furlough" or on "commuted furlough" combined with privilege leave.
 - (6) For the purpose of the rules governing the extent to which leave taken out of India may be allowed to count as service for pension, time spent out of India on "commuted furlough" will be reckoned according to its actual duration and not according to the duration of the furlough in exchange for which it is granted.
7. In respect of urgent private affairs, an officer may be granted furlough in excess of the amount "due" for a period not exceeding six months at one time or 12 months in the whole of his service.

Short Leave.

8. Privilege Leave is a holiday which may be granted to the extent of one-eleventh part of the time that an officer has been on duty without interruption; and it may be accumulated up to four months.

Subject to certain conditions Privilege Leave may be combined with furlough or extraordinary leave without pay.

9. Joining time for a short period, usually with half average salary, is granted to an officer returning from leave out of India to enable him to rejoin his appointment.

10. Short Leave is also granted to enable officers to appear at examinations, etc.

11. Extraordinary Leave without allowances may be granted in case of necessity, and, except in certain specified cases, only when no other kind of leave is by rule admissible. It may be granted in continuation of other leave.

General.

12. Leave of absence, whether on furlough or on privilege leave, can never be claimed as of right, and is given or refused at the discretion of Government.

APPENDIX III. (See para. 19 of the Regulations.)

(See Note at commencement of Appendix II.)

PENSIONS.

1. The following is a summary of the pension rules applicable to officers of the Indian (Imperial) Police Service.

2. Subject to the absolute right of the Government of India to decline to permit any officer to retire before reaching the age for superannuation, should it be necessary in the public interest to retain his services, officers will be allowed to retire optionally after 25 or more years' service.

3. Retirement is ordinarily required at the age of 35 years, but for special reasons an officer is sometimes retained after attaining that age.

4. An officer becomes eligible for full retiring pension on completing 30 years' qualifying service.

5. If before completing this period of service an officer is permitted to retire voluntarily after completion of 25 or more years' qualifying service (para. 2), or is compelled to retire on attaining the age of 55 (para. 3), or through ill-health not occasioned by irregular or intemperate habits, he will be eligible for a reduced pension or, if invalided with less than 10 years' qualifying service, for a gratuity.

7. Government may retire any officer after he has completed 25 years' service without giving reasons, and without admitting any claim to compensation in addition to pension, and in that event the pension admissible to him will ordinarily be regulated on a scale not exceeding that laid down above. Government also reserves the general power to reduce the pension ordinarily admissible in all cases where an officer's service has been unsatisfactory.

Additional Pensions.

8. The Government of India have classified certain high appointments into two grades, the lower comprising those posts which involve high but intermediate responsibility, the higher consisting of those which require a marked degree of independent administrative and professional capacity. Officers who have held appointments in the lower grade will be entitled to an additional pension at the rate of Rs. 300 per year of service in any appointment included in that grade, provided that no officer may draw an additional pension in excess of Rs. 1,500 in respect of service classed in the lower grade. the rate of Rs. 500 for each year of service rendered in any appointment included in that grade, provided that no officer may draw an additional pension in excess of Rs. 2,500 in respect of service rendered in the lower and upper grades combined or in the upper grade alone.

*9. These additional pensions will be awarded only to officers who have given proof of special energy and efficiency, and will be subject to the condition that an officer must not retire voluntarily before the age of 55 with less than 28 years' service.

RESOLUTION.

The attention of the Government of India has been drawn to a rule laid down by the Colonial Office that an officer who has retired from the Colonial Service may not accept a directorate of a company the principal part of whose business is directly concerned with the Colony or Protectorate in which he has served, or employment in the Colony or Protectorate under such a company, without obtaining the previous approval of the Governor; and they have had under consideration the question whether it is necessary to lay down some similar rule for retired officers of the Indian services.

2. After consultation with Local Governments and careful consideration of their views, the Government of India have come to the conclusion that, while it is not necessary at the present time to lay down a definite rule, it is desirable that retired Government servants, especially Gazetted officers, before accepting directorships, partnerships or agencies of, or employment by any company or firm or individual engaged in commercial business or associated with the management of land in India, should either obtain the consent of the Government of India, or if the company is managed in London, the consent of the Secretary of State. The Government of India believe that this procedure will conduce alike to the interests of the officers concerned and to those of the services generally, and are prepared to leave it to the good sense and loyalty of their officers to observe the procedure now suggested.

Order.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations and to all Departments of the Government of India for information, and that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

REWARDS.

No. 753.—In pursuance of the authority delegated to him by His Imperial Majesty, The King-Emperor, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India makes the following awards for gallantry and distinguished service in connection with operations in the field :—

Awarded a Bar to the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flight Lieutenant H. P. Lale, D.F.C., Royal Air Force.—During the period 1st November 1919 to 18th December 1919, he has carried out eighteen day bomb raids, three night raids and two reconnaissances. Through his leadership he is responsible for the following results :— On 2nd December 1919, during a bomb raid on Marobi, Mullah Fazil Dhin's house was destroyed. This was caused by leading his flight to such a low altitude, and proving that one house could be picked out as a target and effectively bombed. Intelligence reports considerable damage done. On the 6th December 1919, Maidan was bombed, the special target being the house of Malik Marwat, which was hit under similar circumstances. Intelligence reports great damage done. During the night raids his results were excellent, the inhabitants getting no sleep day or night, causing the Northern Mabsuds to propose peace terms. On the 11th December he carried out an offensive reconnaissance, leaving the ground in a bad sand storm. Two miles west of Gumatti Post, his machine was heavily fired upon. He made three attempts over this area to find the enemy. On the third attempt, flying at fifty feet his engine was hit and the water pump shattered. He climbed to two hundred feet and dropped his bombs. By careful manipulation he managed to reach Bannu polo ground. His engine entirely failed as he was coming in. Through his skill he not only made an excellent landing but also saved his engine. Subsequent intelligence reports say that fifteen enemies were killed and many others wounded.

Awarded the Military Cross.

Captain J. G. Smyth, F.C., 15th Ludhiana Sikhs, Brigade Major, 43rd Infantry Brigade.—At Khajuri (Tochi Valley) on the 22nd October 1919, this officer's gallantry and initiative under fire contributed largely towards the saving of a valuable convoy which was attacked by the enemy. Sent forward from Idak with reinforcements to clear up the situation, he most ably appreciated a very critical situation, which but for his so doing must have resulted in serious disaster. He displayed staff ability of a high order in co-ordinating and reporting the situation; rallying personnel who were in a state of apathy due to the casualties amongst their officers. He was subjected throughout this period to heavy and accurate enemy fire, which in no way deterred him from moving from place to place. His courage was an example to all and resulted in the convoy being brought safely to Idak.

Lieutenant (acting Captain) A. D. Weir, No. 6 A. M. Battery, Machine Gun Company (Mobile).—For gallantry and initiative in the handling of his battery at Kajuri (Tochi Valley) on the 22nd October 1919, Captain Weir by disregard of personal danger under enemy fire at close range, together with the skilful handling of his battery was instrumental in saving many lives and a large part of a valuable convoy of stores and transport. Finding the further advance of the convoy was blocked at two culverts, between which for 500 yards the enemy was concentrating a heavy and accurate fire at close range, he quitted his car to rally the convoy personnel and to clear the blocks in the road. For over two hours he continued in this work and succeeded in keeping the convoy moving, albeit the accurate enemy fire repeatedly caused fresh blocks by killing the animals at the culverts. In addition to clearing the road, he saved many casualties by affording personnel shelter under the lee of his car, thus enabling them to cross the fire-swept zone. The escort commander and the warrant officer with this portion of the convoy were wounded early in the action, and Captain Weir is mainly responsible for getting the rear portion of the convoy through in daylight, thereby averting a disaster.

Captain (acting Major) W. F. McCalmont, 2nd Battalion, 10th Jats.—At Khajuri (Tochi Valley) on the 22nd October 1919, this officer was in command of reinforcements sent from Idak to Khajuri, in Ford Vans, when the convoy was attacked. As the senior officer at the scene of action, Major McCalmont's dispositions in a critical situation and when there was but scanty information, were most effective in dealing with the state of disorganisation which existed. He led his men forward under rifle fire in a gallant manner to their various fire positions; and thereafter by his coolness and bravery, he set a fine example to his men, moving from place to place regardless of the enemy fire to deal with changes in the situation. His covering of the convoy during the march to Idak was also most skilfully carried out, and it marks him as a gallant and trustworthy leader of men.

Exporters are warned that there are import prohibitions in some foreign countries, information regarding which can be obtained from the Department of Overseas Trade, 35, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S. W. 1, and 73, Basinghall Street, E. C. 2. The issue of an export licence implies no guarantee that the goods will be admitted into the country of destination.

There is no parcel post to Estonia, Jugo-Slavia, (except Dalmatia), Lettland (Latvia), Lithuania, Poland.

Germany.—Gift parcels sent by parcel post may enter Germany without import licence and also free from duty and taxes, provided they do not contain more than 2 kilos (70 ozs.) of tobacco.

Syria.—A Parcel Post Service is in operation north of Acre to Alexandretta and west of Aleppo, including—

Beyrout, Damascus, Hamah, Hama, Latakia, Rayak and Tripoli.

Turkey.—Parcels for civilians in Turkey and Smyrna will only be accepted if they are fully addressed "c/o Poste Restante, British Army Post Office, Constantinople" (and/or Smyrna), and parcels must be called for at the British Post Offices.

URGENT ORDERS.

The Import and Export Licensing Section, Board of Trade, announces that, in collaboration with the Department of Overseas Trade, an arrangement has been made whereby firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to the Department of Overseas Trade in order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Import and Export Licensing Section (Board of Trade) the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Orders, c/o Advantage, Stock, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and address of the ultimate consignee if the goods are destined for a neutral country. In the case of orders from Allied or British Territory or from territory in the occupation of troops of the Associated Governments, the consignee need not be stated; and it will be sufficient merely to give the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1/3) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Comptroller General, Department of Overseas Trade (Export Facilities Section), 35, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S. W. 1.

This non-commissioned officer set a magnificent example to the whole battalion.

For conspicuous gallantry on the 5th January 1920. For conspicuous gallantry on the 21st December 1919. After an enemy attack Havildar Dhondi Sakpal led the remainder of his platoon in a counter-attack, keeping well ahead to encourage his men. When the position was re-captured he rallied everyone near him, and pursued the enemy with rifle fire. He returned under heavy fire, carried in one wounded man on his back, and at the same time assisted the other.

No. 2105 Sepoy Harphul Singh, 3rd Battalion, 151st Punjabi Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry and displaying a magnificent fighting spirit on the 11th December 1919. He was one of a line of scouts approaching a position, when fire was opened on them from a range of 30 yards. For conspicuous gallantry on the 14th January 1920. This Indian officer controlled his platoon in the most fearless manner throughout the day in spite of five determined attacks on his position. For conspicuous gallantry on the 18th January 1920. An attempt had been made to establish a permanent picquet but owing to heavy enemy fire the picquet received orders to retire. Naik Sarabjit Karke, who commanded the Lewis gun section of the platoon covering the right flank of the picquet found himself obliged to retire across a flat plateau swept by heavy enemy fire at close range. No. 2442 Naik Durrath Bisht, 2nd Battalion, 9th Gurkha Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry on the 18th January 1920. For conspicuous gallantry on the 23rd January 1920. Naik Birbahadur Khan was in command of a platoon on the extreme right of the position holding a tactical point which was of great value. Although heavily attacked at close range, he stood his ground until the general retirement took place and then skilfully withdrew his platoon with only a few casualties. By his pluck and example he saved a position, which had the enemy captured it, would have enabled them to enfilade the whole line.

No. 133 Sepoy Jan, South Waziristan Militia, attached 1st Battalion, 55th Coy's Rifles (Frontier Force).

For conspicuous gallantry on the 14th January 1920. Sepoy Jan set a fine example of courage, endurance, and devotion to duty, by going out from his picquet and bringing a wounded pilot, whose aeroplane had crashed, safely back to camp under very heavy fire. He was severely wounded in the chest and leg while rescuing the pilot.

Awarded the Indian Distinguished Service Medal.

In accordance with Article 6, Chapter 2, of the "Convention for the Control of the Trade in Arms and Ammunition," all consignments of Arms and Ammunition proceeding into or through any of the Prohibited Areas set out below will require a Specific Export Licence.

The Prohibited Areas are :—

(1) The whole of the Continent of Africa, with the exception of Algeria, Libya, and the Union of South Africa. (Within this area are included all islands situated within a hundred nautical miles of the coast, together with Prince's Island, St. Thomas Island and the Islands of Annobon and Socotra.)

(2) Transcaucasia, Persia, Gwadar, the Arabian Peninsula and such continental parts of Asia as were included in the Turkish Empire on August 4, 1914.

(3) A maritime zone including the Red Sea, the Gulf of Aden, the Persian Gulf and the Sea of Oman and bounded by a line drawn from Cape Guardafui, following the latitude of that cape to its intersection with longitude 57° east of Greenwich, and proceeding thence direct to the eastern frontier of Persia on the Gulf of Oman.

Open General Licence for the export of Aircraft, &c.

An Open General Licence has been issued for the export of the undermentioned goods to all destinations except Russia, Germany, Hungary, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria. Applications are no longer to be made to the Import and Export Licensing Section of the Board of Trade in respect of the export of these goods to countries other than those mentioned :— "Aeroplane engines and their component parts. Aircraft, other than balloons of all kinds, and their component parts, together with accessories and articles suitable for use in connection with aircraft."

Open General Licence for the export of parcels containing miscellaneous foodstuffs.

An Open (General) Licence has been issued for the export by parcel post of parcels containing one or more varieties of foodstuffs (for the personal use of the addressee and not for trading purposes) to all destinations with which trading is allowed, provided that any such parcel may not contain more than two pounds of sugar or more than one pound of butter. Applications need, therefore, no longer be submitted to the Import and Export Licensing Section in respect of the export of such parcels by parcel post.

Notes regarding export to certain countries.

Exporters are warned that there are import prohibitions in some foreign countries, information regarding which can be obtained from the Department of Overseas Trade, 35, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S. W. 1, and 78, Basinghall Street, E. C. 2. The issue of an export licence implies no guarantee that the goods will be admitted into the country of destination.

There is no parcel post to Estonia, Jugo-Slavia (except Dalmatia), Lettland (Latvia), Lithuania, Poland.

Germany.—Gift parcels sent by parcel post may enter Germany without import licence and also free from duty and taxes, provided they do not contain more than 2 kilos (70 ozs.) of tobacco.

Russia (European).—Conditions under which trading with European Russia will be permissible are at present under consideration.

Syria.—A Parcel Post Service is in operation north of Acre to Alexandretta and west of Aleppo, including—

Beyrout, Damascus, Hamah, Hama, Latakia, Rayak and Tripoli.

Turkey.—Parcels for civilians in Turkey and Smyrna will only be accepted if they are fully addressed "c/o Poste Restante, British Army Post Office, Constantinople" (and/or Smyrna), and parcels must be called for at the British Post Offices.

URGENT ORDERS.

The Import and Export Licensing Section, Board of Trade, announces that, in collaboration with the Department of Overseas Trade, an arrangement has been made whereby firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to the Department of Overseas Trade in order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Import and Export Licensing Section (Board of Trade) the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Orders, c/o Advantage, Stock, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and address of the ultimate consignee if the goods are destined for a neutral country. In the case of orders from Allied or British Territory or from territory in the occupation of troops of the Associated Governments, the consignee need not be stated; and it will be sufficient merely to give the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1/3) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Comptroller General, Department of Overseas Trade (Export Facilities Section), 35, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S. W. 1.

Priority of contributions.

18. The contributions fixed under the preceding rules shall be a first charge on the allocated revenues and moneys of the local Governments concerned, and shall be paid in such instalments, in such manner, and on such dates, as the Governor General in Council may prescribe.

Withdrawal of balances.

19. At any time when he considers this course to be essential in order to preserve the financial stability of India, the Governor General in Council shall have power to require a local Government so to regulate its programme of expenditure as not to reduce the balance at its credit in the public account on a specified date below a stated figure. Subject to this power, local Governments shall be at liberty to draw on their balances, provided that notice of the amount which they propose to draw during the ensuing financial year is given to the Governor General in Council before such date in each year as the Governor General in Council may by order fix.

Interest on provincial balances.

20. Whenever the Governor General in Council has, on receipt of due notice of the intention of the local Government to draw on its balances, required it to reduce the extent of the proposed draft, he shall, at the end of the financial year in which the local Government is debarred from drawing, credit the local Government with interest on the amount which it was not permitted to draw. Such interest shall be a charge on the revenues of India and shall be calculated at the average rate at which the Governor General in Council has borrowed money in the open market during the year by the issue of treasury bills.

Provincial Loan Account.

21. Any moneys which, on the 1st day of April 1921, are owed to the Governor General in Council on account of advances made from the provincial loan account of any province shall be treated as an advance to the local Government from the revenues of India, and shall carry interest at a rate calculated on the average rate carried by the total amount owed to the Governor General in Council on this account on the 31st March 1921. The interest shall be payable upon such dates as the Governor General in Council may fix. In addition, the local Government shall pay to the Governor General in Council in each year an instalment in repayment of the principal amount of the advance, and this instalment shall be so fixed that the total advance shall, except where for special reasons the Governor General in Council may otherwise direct, be repaid before the expiry of twelve years. It shall be open to any local Government to repay in any year an amount in excess to the fixed instalment.

22. (1) The capital sums spent by the Governor General in Council upon the construction in the various provinces of productive and protective irrigation works and of such other works financed from loan funds as may from time to time be handed over to the management of local Governments shall be treated as advances made to the local Governments from the revenues of India. Such advances shall carry interest at the following rates, namely :—

- (a) in the case of outlay up to the end of the financial year 1916-17, at the rate of 3·3252 per centum ;

(2) The interest shall be payable upon such dates as the Governor General in Council may fix.

23. The Governor General in Council may at any time make to a local Government an advance from the revenues of India on such terms as to interest and repayment as he may think fit.

24. The payment of interest on loans and advances made under the three preceding rules, and the repayment of the principal of an advance under rule 21, shall be a charge on the annual allocated revenues of the local Government, and shall have priority over all other charges, save only contributions payable to the Governor General in Council.

25. (1) Subject to the rules contained in Schedule III, the local Government shall have full power to sanction expenditure on provincial subjects—

29. Expenditure for the purpose of the administration of transferred subjects shall, in the first instance, be a charge on the general revenues and balances of each province, and the framing of proposals for expenditure in regard to transferred and reserved subjects will be a matter for agreement between that part of the government which is responsible for the administration of transferred subjects and that part of the government which is responsible for the administration of reserved subjects.

30. If the Governor is at any time satisfied that there is no hope of an agreement being arrived at within a reasonable time as to the framing of proposals in regard to expenditure for reserved and transferred subjects respectively, he may by order in writing allocate the revenue and balances of the province between reserved and transferred subjects by specifying the fractional proportions of the revenues and balances which shall be assigned to each class of subject.

31. Every such order shall specify the period for which the allocation will remain in force. Such period shall be either the period of the office of the then existing Legislative Council or such longer period terminating at a date not later than one year after the expiration thereof as the Governor may determine. The Governor may, if he thinks fit, before making an order of allocation, refer the question of the allocation of the revenues and balances of the province for the report of such authority as the Governor General may appoint in this behalf, and the Governor, if he so refers the matter, shall make his order in accordance with the terms of the report.

32. Every order of allocation made under these rules shall provide that, if any increase of revenue accrues during the period of the order on account of the imposition of fresh taxation, that increase, unless the legislature otherwise directs, shall be allocated in aid of that part of the Government by which the taxation is initiated.

33. If at the time of the preparation of any budget no agreement or allocation such as is contemplated by these rules has been arrived at, the budget shall be prepared on the basis of the aggregate grants respectively provided for the reserved and transferred subjects in the budget of the year about to expire.

SCHEDULE IV.

(See rule 27.)

1. The local Governments mentioned below shall, save as hereinafter provided, make in every year provision in their budgets for expenditure upon relief of, and insurance against, famine of such amounts respectively (hereinafter referred to as the annual assignments) as are stated against each:—

	Rs.
Madras	8,61,000
Bombay	83,60,000
Bengal	2,00,000

	Rs.
United Provinces	30,60,000
Punjab	3,81,000
Burma	87,000
Bihar and Orissa	11,62,000
Central Provinces	47,26,000
Assam	10,000

2. The provision shall be made in the shape of a demand for a grant, and the estimates shall show, under the major heads concerned, the method in which it is proposed to utilise the grant.

3. The grant shall not be expended save upon the relief of famine or upon the construction of protective irrigation works or other works for the prevention of famine. Any portion of the grant which is not so spent shall be transferred to the famine insurance fund of the province.

4. The famine insurance fund shall consist of the unexpended balances of the annual assignments for each year, transferred to the fund under paragraph 3 of this Schedule, together with any interest which may accrue on these balances.

5. The local Government may, in any year when the accumulated total of the famine insurance fund of the province is not less than six times the amount of the annual assignment, suspend temporarily the provision of the annual assignment.

6. The famine insurance fund shall form part of the general balances of the Governor General in Council, who shall pay at the end of each year interest on the average of the balances held in the fund on the last day of each quarter. The interest shall be calculated at the average rate at which the Governor General in Council has during the year borrowed money by the issue of treasury bills. Such interest shall be credited to the fund.

7. The local Government may at any time expend the balance at its credit in the famine insurance fund for any of the purposes specified in paragraph 3 of this Schedule.

8. Such balances may further be utilised in the grant of loans to cultivators, either under the 'Agriculturists' Loans Act, 1884, or for relief purposes. When such loans have been granted, payments of interest on loans and repayments of principal shall be credited to the fund as they occur, and irrecoverable loans written off shall form a final charge against the fund.

9. In case of doubt whether the purpose for which it is proposed to spend any portion of the annual assignment or the famine insurance fund is one of the purposes specified in paragraph 3 of this Schedule, the decision of the Governor shall be final.

10. The annual accounts of the annual assignments and of the fund shall be maintained in the forms annexed to this Schedule.

RESOLUTION.

No. 785-F.E.

The 12th May, 1920.

Despatch from His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. G-Accounts, dated the 15th April 1920, and enclosure.

ORDERED that the despatch and its enclosures be published in the Gazette of India for general information.India Office, London,
16th April 1920.Accounts,
No. 6.To His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor
General of India in Council.

MY LORD,

With reference to my predecessor's Despatch, Financial (Funds), No. 3, dated 28th April 1916, fixing the date of the next valuation of the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Scheme as at the 31st March 1919, I enclose herewith a copy of the Report of the Actuary, Mr. J. Douglas Watson, F.I.A., as at that date, with copies of a letter sent to him on the 23rd February 1920, relative to that Report, and of his reply dated the 24th of the same month.

I also enclose a statement of the consolidated accounts for the period from 1st April 1911 to the 31st March 1918.

2. The valuation, which was made on a 4 per cent. basis, showed that there was a surplus in the capitalised value of the assets, actual and contingent, over the capitalised liabilities, actual and contingent, of 223,239%. The continuation of the reduction of 12½ per cent. in the subscriptions, which has been in force since the 1st August 1908, would absorb 102,168% of this surplus, leaving 121,071% undistributed.

3. For the reasons set forth in the letter to Mr. Watson dated the 23rd February 1920, I have decided, while continuing the 12½ per cent. reduction in subscriptions as at present, to increase by 25 per cent. all pensions that may be payable in respect of the period from the 1st January 1920 to the 31st December 1924, or any part of that period. I have sanctioned this increase on the distinct understanding that it may not be continued beyond the 31st December 1921. I feel sure that the disposal of a large portion of the surplus by granting this increase will commend itself to the judgment of the subscribers. No increase will be made in the donations payable to daughters on marriage.

This exceptional step of temporarily increasing pensions has been rendered possible by the decision to allow for the present 5½ per cent. interest on the half-yearly balances in the pro forma accounts with effect from the 1st April 1919. The additional ½ per cent. is subject to withdrawal on six months' notice.

4. I have to request that you will publish the Actuary's Report, with the letters of the 23rd and 24th February, also this Despatch, in the "Gazette of India." Interest on arrears of contributions should be increased to 5½ per cent. with effect from the first day of the month following publication. The date of publication should be communicated to me by telegram, and as soon as possible thereafter copies of the amended Regulations will be despatched.

I have the honour to be,

MY LORD,

Your Lordship's most obedient humble Servant,

ED. S. MONTAGU.

ENCLOSURES.

ENCLOSURE No. 1 ;— Mr. J. Douglas Watson, F.I.A., to India Office.

32, Moorgate Street, E.C. 2,

15th December 1919.

Sir,

In accordance with instructions conveyed to me by the Accountant-General and Director of Funds in his letter of the 26th March 1918, I have investigated the financial position of the Indian Civil Service Family Pensions Scheme as at 31st March 1918.

2. The previous actuarial investigation into this scheme was made by the late Sir George Francis Hardy as at 31st March 1911, and in that connection he made a very elaborate investigation into the past experience of the fund, supplemented, where it seemed useful, by data derived from the Bengal, Madras and Bombay Civil Funds, with a view to the preparation of the necessary tables to determine what is likely to be the future experience of the Fund with regard to—

- (a) the rates of mortality at various ages of subscribers and of actual and prospective incumbents ;
- (b) the rates of marriage of the widows and of the daughters of subscribers ;
- (c) the rates of marriage of unmarried subscribers and the relative ages of husbands and wives at marriage ;
- (d) the number of sons and daughters born to subscribers of various ages ; and
- (e) the ages at which subscribers will retire from active service.

From the data available suitable graduated tables were produced, which Sir George Hardy in his Report of 11th November 1913 stated might be regarded as a really trustworthy basis for the financial estimates and one which would be of value in the future. The tables in question are for convenience reprinted at the end of this Report (Appendix A, Table A).

3. In connection with the present investigation, I have been furnished by the Accountant-General and Director of Funds with full statistics relating to the Fund as at 31st March 1918, and for the seven intervening years since the date as at which the last investigation was made. The first point requiring investigation was how far the experience of the Fund since 1914 has, in fact, coincided with the above-mentioned tables prepared by Sir George Hardy with a view to seeing whether such tables could properly again be used upon this occasion.

4. As the result of a full investigation into the new facts, I am of opinion that Sir George Hardy's tables may again be adopted (with one unimportant exception, which will be referred to below), but it will be convenient, if only for purposes of record, briefly to deal with the figures for the seven years 1911-1918 under each head in detail.

Mortality of Subscribers.

5. The following table gives a summary of the experience with respect to the mortality of subscribers, both active and retired, the facts being arranged for convenience in quinquennial groups of ages.

TABLE I.

Mortality Experience of Subscribers—Active and Retired, 1911-1918.

Ages.				Actual Number of Deaths.	Number expected by Table A.
24-29	15	15
30-34	10	13
35-39	15	11
40-44	13	15
45-49	13	14
50	6	6
Total				78	74

From this table it will be seen that the number of deaths was 78, which is four more than the number "expected" by Table A. This deviation is unimportant.

Mortality of Wives of Subscribers.

6. During the period 30 wives died, which is six more than "expected" under Table A, but the total figures are so small that no particular significance can be attached to this fact.

Mortality of Widows and Daughters of Subscribers.

7. Only two widows died during the period, which was the number "expected" under Table A, while with regard to the daughters 22 died as against 28 deaths "expected."

Mortality of Sons of Subscribers.

8. In the case of the sons of subscribers the number who died was 40 as against 28 "expected" under table A. Of the 40 deaths, however, 19 are returned as war casualties. Making allowance for this fact, it will be seen that what may be regarded as the normal mortality has closely approximated to that expected.

Marriages.

9. (a) Single Subscribers.—During the period there were 291 marriages of single subscribers as against 300 "expected," showing as close an approximation between the actual and "expected" marriages as could reasonably be anticipated.

(b) Widows.—Here there were 10 marriages as against five "expected" under Table A. In the case of re-marriages of widows, not only is the experience during the period very small, but the rates given in Table A are themselves based, as was pointed out by Sir George Hardy, upon very scanty data, and it is not surprising that there should be some deviation between the actual and "expected" results. There seems, therefore, in my judgment at present no adequate reason for modifying the Table A rates, and in any case, having regard to the small financial effect of this particular item on the investigation, this point is of no practical significance.

(c) Daughters.—During the period there were 45 marriages of daughters of subscribers at the ages shown in the following Table :—

TABLE II.
Marriages of Daughters, 1911—1918.

Ages,			Actual Number of Marriages.	Number expected by Table A.
Under 20	4	4
20-24	28	11
25-29	13	4
Total			45	19

It will be seen that the number of marriages of daughters considerably exceeded the "expected" under Table A. In this connection it must be borne in mind that, as pointed out by Sir George Hardy, the marriage rates deduced by him were based mainly upon the experience of the old Funds. In order, therefore to provide for the possibility of a fall in the marriage rate in the future, he arbitrarily reduced the rates indicated by the past experience by 25 per cent., and it is such reduced rates which are shown in Table A. So far as there has been any rise in the number of marriages during the last few years, this may quite likely have been due to special circumstances connected with the war. Moreover, it is possible that the marriage rate in the immediate future may tend to fall owing to the social and economic after effects of the war. For these reasons, and bearing in mind the fact that any fall in the marriage rate in the future would have an adverse effect on the Fund, it has not been considered advisable to assume on this occasion a higher marriage rate than that shown in Table A.

Births of Future Children.

10. (a) Sons.—The number of sons born was 347 as against 324 "expected," a sufficiently close approximation. Moreover, the ratio of the number of married men at each age to the total number of subscribers at that age has not altered materially. With regard to sons, therefore, it is satisfactory to adopt the Table A rates.

(b) Daughters.—The number of daughters born was 331 as against 208 "expected." With regard to these figures it will be noticed that the actual number of daughters born, 331, is about 5 per cent. less than the number of sons born, 347; which is a proportion found normally to obtain in similar experiences. This fact suggested an enquiry as to the former data upon which the Table A rates were based, and it was found that for the six years 1900—1905, and again for the six years 1906—1911, the number of sons born exceeded the number of daughters born by 20 per cent. in each period. No particular reason suggests itself why what can only be regarded as the very abnormal experience up to 1911 should recur, and it was therefore decided to base the present valuation on the more normal experience of the immediately preceding seven years. In order to carry this out it has been on this occasion assumed that the birth rate of daughters would in future correspond with that given for sons in Table A. The "expected" births on this basis during the past seven years would have been almost exactly equal to the actual births.

Number and Ages of Subscribers entering the Service.

11. The following table gives the numbers and average ages of subscribers entering the service:—

TABLE III.

Number and Ages of Subscribers entering the Service.

Year of Entry.	Numbers.	Average Age.
1911	60	24.3
1912	43	24.3
1913	47	24.4
1914	43	24.3
1915	45	24.3
1916	14	24.2
1917	9	24.5

From this table it will be seen that throughout the period the average age at entry has been 24.3, which is practically the same as during the previous six years. With regard to the numbers entering the service, it will be noticed that these fell off considerably during the later years of the war.

Retirements of Subscribers.

12. The number of subscribers who retire from active service at the various ages is a very important factor in such a Fund as this, and Sir George Hardy in his Report (paras. 19-21) went very carefully into the questions involved. The special difficulty in dealing with these points in connection with this particular Fund is that, owing to the date at which it was established, comparatively few of the members have reached the normal age of retirement. Moreover, since the Fund was established the average age at entry, which in the early days was 21, has increased to slightly over 24, which fact may be expected ultimately somewhat to increase the average age at retirement, while on the other hand the fact that subscribers are no longer required to pay their monthly subscriptions after retirement may tend in the other direction. Bearing these considerations in mind, and after careful examination of the data of the last seven years, I am of opinion that while there is not at the present time sufficient justification for definitely assuming that retirements will ultimately take place earlier than at an average age of 50, it would be wise somewhat to strengthen the valuation in this respect to provide a margin for future contingencies, and this has accordingly been done.

Withdrawals of Subscribers.

13. Having regard to the present rules, the influence of withdrawals on the Fund is insignificant and may be neglected.

Basis of Valuation.

14. The valuation has been based upon the rates of mortality, marriage, &c., as explained above, combined with interest at the rate of 4 per cent. in accordance with instructions. This involves the assumption that in the case of each succeeding valuation the capital will from year to year be credited with interest at the rate of not less than 4 per cent. so long as any of the existing contracts remain in force.

Results of the Valuation.

15. The valuation balance-sheet appended to this report (Appendix B) shows in detail the results of the valuation upon the assumptions described above, and assuming that the full rates of contributions and donations as set out in Regulation 10 are payable in future.

16. It will be seen that there was as on the 31st March 1918 a surplus, according to the present valuation, of 223,239/., which figure may be compared with the corresponding surplus of about 130,000/., disclosed in the previous valuation after taking into account the financial effect of the modifications in the rules then in contemplation and now in force.

17. It will be observed that the surplus on the present occasion considerably exceeds the corresponding surplus at the previous valuation. I have roughly investigated the reason for this, and find that the larger surplus is partly due to the rate of interest allowed on the half-yearly balances having been at the increased rate of $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. from 1st April 1911 to 31st March 1914 (when the rate was again reduced to 4 per cent.), but mainly on account of the experience of the Fund during the seven years having, as regards many material items, worked out somewhat more favourably than provided for by the tables upon which the valuation was based.

18. Assuming that on this occasion it were decided to continue the abatement of $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. at present allowed off the contributions, this would absorb 102,168/., of the above-mentioned surplus and would leave 121,071/., of the surplus undistributed. This undistributed surplus would represent $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the Fund, which would not be an unreasonable amount to keep in hand in a Fund of this description if the abatements in the contributions allowed were permanent. Having regard, however, to the following considerations:—

- (a) that the abatement in subscriptions allowed is subject to revision after each valuation;
- (b) that, as explained above, during the last seven years on the whole the experience of the Fund has been somewhat more favourable than that anticipated; and
- (c) that it has been decided to allow interest at the rate of 5 per cent. on the half-yearly balances of the Fund (which will in itself have a very favourable effect upon the next valuation).

I am of opinion that until the date of the next valuation the abatement in the subscriptions might safely be increased to 20 per cent., which recommendation, if adopted, would absorb 163,469/., of the surplus now disclosed, leaving 59,720/., to be carried forward.

Non-European Members of the Indian Civil Service.

19. It remains to deal with the further question upon which I am instructed to report, namely, as to the effect, if any, on the Fund of the admission to membership of non-European members of the Indian Civil Service.

20. It is understood that it is now compulsory for non-European probationers admitted in August 1914 and thereafter to join the Fund, and in accordance with present arrangements such members pay the same rates of subscription and receive the same benefits as the European members. At the time these new arrangements were authorised it was recognised that, in the absence of sufficient material on which to base an investigation of the liabilities that would be incurred through the admission of non-Europeans to the Pension Scheme, no good purpose would be served by taking actuarial advice on the point [see Despatch (Financial), No. 70, dated 23rd May 1913].

21. Since the new arrangements came into force in 1914 the number of non-European members admitted to the Fund has been 22, all of whom were under 30 years of age at the 31st March 1918, and it is therefore still clearly impossible to base any conclusions of value upon such small foundations. At the same time I recommend that the statistics relating to this class continue to be kept separately as they may ultimately prove useful. In the meantime these 22 members are, of course, included in the present valuation with the other members.

The Secretary of State for India.

I have, &c.,
J. DOUGLAS WATSON.

ENCLOSURE No. 2.—India Office to Mr. J. Douglas Watson, F.I. A.

India Office,

23rd February 1920.

Sir,

I am directed to acquaint you that the Secretary of State for India in Council has had under consideration your Report, dated the 15th December 1919, on the Valuation of the Indian Civil Service Family Pensions, from which it appears that a reduction in the rates of subscription at present paid by the members might safely be made.

It is contrary to precedent and to accepted views regarding the application of a surplus to apply it to temporary benefits, but the existing circumstances seem to justify a departure from previous practice, and the Secretary of State feels that at the present time various reasons exist for adopting, as an alternative to a reduction of subscription, some method for securing benefits to widows and children drawing pensions under these Regulations, if this can be done without impairing the stability of the scheme and with due consideration for the interests of existing subscribers.

As regards the latter, an important point to be borne in mind is that, as the contributions are fixed in sterling, the recent large rise in the value of the rupee has the effect of greatly reducing the sums payable by them, so that they are independently receiving a large benefit which does not accrue to the pensioners.

Several factors, which do not immediately affect the present valuation, may perhaps be expected to have some disturbing influence on the future position of the scheme, such as the recent reduced entries into the Service to be made good later, the possibility of some early retirements, and some other indirect effects of the War, so that it would seem undesirable to increase existing and future pensions permanently. On the other hand the Secretary of State has recently decided that, with effect from 1st April 1919, interest shall be allowed on the half yearly balances at $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., the additional $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. being subject to withdrawal on six months' notice. In view of this decision and of the position disclosed by your valuation, he is disposed to think that without prejudicing the future of the scheme a temporary addition until the 31st December 1924 of at least 25 per cent. might be made to the pensions of all present pensioners with effect from the 1st January 1920, and of those hereafter admitted during the five years to 31st December 1924. The addition might perhaps be more if it were to be subject to reconsideration in the event of any reduction being made from $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent in the rate of interest on balances.

Before coming to a decision, the Secretary of State would be glad to have any comments that you may be disposed to make on the above proposal.

I have, &c.,

R. G. JAQUES.

J. Douglas Watson, Esq., F.I.A.

ENCLOSURE No. 3 :—Mr. J. Douglas Watson, F.I.A., to India Office.

32, Moorgate Street, E.C.

24th February 1920.

Sir,

Ref. A.G. (Funds) 101719.

I am in receipt of your letter of yesterday's date, and in reply beg leave to say that if it is desired—

- (1) to continue the existing $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent reduction on contributions, and
- (2) as a temporary measure as from the 1st January 1920 until the 31st December 1924, to increase all incumbent pensions payable by the Fund by 25 per cent.

I am of opinion that this can safely be done without impairing the stability of the scheme, and with due consideration for the interests of existing subscribers, if during this period the interest allowed on the half-yearly balances is maintained at not less than $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

I am, &c.,

J. D. WATSON.

The Under Secretary of State

for India.

Notes regarding export to certain countries.

Exporters are warned that there are import prohibitions in some foreign countries, information regarding which can be obtained from the Department of Overseas Trade, 85, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S.W.1, and 73, Basinghall Street, E. C. 2. The issue of an export licence implies no guarantee that the goods will be admitted into the country of destination.

There is no parcel post to Esthonia, Jugo-Slavia (except Dalmatia), Lettland (Latvia), Lithuania, Poland.

Germany.—Gift parcels sent by parcel post may enter Germany without import licence and also free from duty and taxes, provided they do not contain more than 2 kilos (70 ozs.) of tobacco.

Russia (European).—Conditions under which trading with European Russia will be permissible are at present under consideration.

Syria.—A Parcel Post Service is in operation north of Acre to Alexandretta, and west of Aleppo, including—

Beyrout, Damascus, Hamah, Homs, Latakia, Rayak and Tripoli.

Turkey.—Parcels for civilians in Turkey and Smyrna will only be accepted if they are fully addressed "c/o Poste Restante, British Army Post Office, Constantinople" (and/or Smyrna), and parcels must be called for at the British Post Offices.

URGENT ORDERS.

The Import and Export Licensing Section, Board of Trade, announces that, in collaboration with the Department of Overseas Trade, an arrangement has been made whereby firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to the Department of Overseas Trade in order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Import and Export Licensing Section (Board of Trade) the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Orders, c/o Advantage, Stock, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and address of the ultimate consignee if the goods are destined for a neutral country. In the case of orders from Allied or British Territory or from Territory in the occupation of troops of the Associated Governments, the consignee need not be stated; and it will be sufficient merely to give the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1/3) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Comptroller General, Department of Overseas Trade (Export Facilities Section), 35, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S. W.-1.

REWARDS.

No. 983.—In pursuance of the authority delegated to him by His Imperial Majesty, The King Emperor, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India, makes the following awards for gallantry and distinguished service in the field :—

Awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

The late Captain Thomas Mervyn Osborne Catterson-Smith, attached 8-84th Sikh Pioneers.

For gallant and distinguished conduct at Pioneer Picquet on 21st December 1919. Owing to the retirement of the covering party, his working party of 250 men was suddenly attacked and surrounded by three to four times its number of enemy. The enemy made five assaults on his position and fierce hand to hand fighting ensued during which by his coolness, leadership and example these attacks were beaten off with severe losses to the enemy. Though twice wounded he continued to control his men and withdrew them after all his ammunition had been expended.

Awarded a Bar to the Distinguished Service Order.

Captain Nilkanth Shriram Jatar, D. S. O., Indian Medical Service.

For distinguished gallantry in the presence of the enemy near Kotkai on 5th January 1920. During the withdrawal of a covering party, several men had been wounded when going back to bring in wounded comrades. Seeing the situation, this officer himself went back to dress and bring in wounded cases under very heavy enemy fire. Whilst doing so he was himself very seriously wounded.

Awarded the Military Cross.

Captain Cecil Wotton Toovey, 82nd Punjabis.

For conspicuous gallantry in the presence of the enemy. In the action of 21st December 1919 at Palosina Camp on the Black Hill Ridge, when in command of the Battalion, which was driven off the ridge by the enemy, he gallantly organised and led a counter attack under heavy fire though himself wounded. During this counter attack he was again wounded. In this action he displayed conspicuous coolness and set a fine example to the Battalion.

Captain Lionel Rankin Knight, 3rd Battalion, Queen Victoria's Own Corps of Guides.

For gallantry in action. Near Jandola on the 11th December 1919, during a very hard pressed retirement when the enemy was enfilading the right flank from very close range, this officer realising that the right flank was in a most precarious position at once collected men and charged the enemy, thus extricating the right flank from its difficulties and enabling the body of a British officer, who had been killed, to be removed.

Lieutenant Leslie Norman Loder, 3rd Battalion, 84th Sikh Pioneers.

For gallantry and coolness under heavy fire. At Palosina on 21st December 1919 his company formed part of a working party. The party was surrounded and suffered from heavy fire. Though wounded he remained in the position encouraging his men. When the last of a Lewis gun team was killed, though no man in his part of the position was left un wounded, he himself fired the gun at close range inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy, until he was again hit three times. Thus though wounded, by his personal example he kept his men in position until ordered to retire.

Lieutenant Richard Harvey Wycherley, 3rd Battalion, 84th Pioneers.

For gallantry and devotion to duty at Palosina on 19th December 1919.

During the retirement of two units this officer took a Lewis gun from a man retiring and ran up a small hill with it alone. Though practically surrounded he kept up a hot fire on the enemy, checking their advance. He eventually carried the gun back to camp. On 21st December 1919 when a working party of the 8-84th Pioneers had been forced to retire this officer collected all the stragglers and organised a counter attack, during which he was wounded. He was particularly conspicuous for coolness and gallantry in the defence of the picquet and was the last to leave. He picked up Lieutenant Loder who was wounded and brought him to safety.

Temporary Lieutenant Ben Philip Athaide, I.M.S., attached 1st Battalion, 103rd Mahratta Light Infantry.

For gallantry in the presence of the enemy. At Palosina on the 19th December 1919 he was in charge of an Aid Post and displayed great gallantry in attending to the wounded under fire. The line was forced to retire, but he continued attending to his patients. When almost surrounded he was forced to fall back, and was the last to leave.

Lieutenant William Robert Thomson, 1st Battalion, 109th Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry in the presence of the enemy. On Black Ridge, near Palosina on 21st December 1919, after the troops on his left had been withdrawn, this officer held on to the left flank with a few men until forced to retire by superior numbers of the enemy. However he again rallied his men and advanced by bombing to his original position, which he held till ordered to withdraw. He showed great coolness in a difficult situation and set a grand example to his men.

Lieutenant Frederick Campbell O'Connell, 1st Battalion, 55th Coke's Rifles (Frontier Force).

For gallantry in the presence of the enemy at Asa Khan on 14th January 1920. This officer showed conspicuous gallantry in leading his company under heavy fire up a difficult hill to secure the left flank, which was absolutely necessary to enable the battalion to hold on to its position. He then set a very fine example of determined coolness under heavy and accurate fire of the enemy. There were heavy casualties amongst the men building the Picquet. The Picquet was very essential for the safety of the camp and it was only through Lieutenant O'Connell's devotion to duty and cool courage that the Picquet was completed for occupation that night. He set a fine example to his men and to the whole battalion.

The late Lieutenant Leonard Arthur Cuthbert, 2nd Battalion, 19th Punjabis.

At Girmi on the 22nd October 1919 commanding his company in an able manner, showed decision and sound tactical sense in ordering a counter-attack when his company was being severely pressed on retirement. This counter-attack was successful and caused the enemy severe casualties. He showed personal courage in leading the counter-attack and shooting with his revolver one of the enemy.

Subadar Narau Singh, 1st Battalion, 150th Infantry.

On October 5th near Manjhi extricated his platoon in an able manner when surrounded by superior numbers of the enemy. Under his order 17 men, 8 of whom were wounded, fought their way $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles to Manjhi. He showed personal courage in remaining to the last searching for wounded.

Lieutenant Robert Francis Rutledge, 34th Prince Albert Victor's Own Poona Horse, attached to 21st Prince Albert Victor's Own Cavalry, (Frontier Force) (Daly's Horse).

For gallantry between Jatta and Murtaza posts on November 21st, 1919. After a brisk engagement with about 100 Mahsuds, the troops under the command of Captain Byrne received orders to retire. At this time a non-commissioned officer of the 21st Cavalry was lying badly wounded in the head and unconscious. Lieutenant Rutledge seeing three dismounted men with difficulty getting the wounded man away under cover and realising that the retirement would be seriously delayed, galloped back in face of heavy fire at 500 yards, took the man up on to his horse and galloped across very broken country with him to a place from where he could be easily transported. This gallant action undoubtedly saved the man's life and any unnecessary delay in the withdrawal, which was being closely followed up.

Awarded a Bar to the Military Cross.

Lieutenant Clarence Robert Collie Lundy, M.C., 3rd Battalion, 34th Sikh Pioneers.

For gallantry and coolness under fire. On 17th December 1919 at Jandola Lieutenant Lundy was in command of a party of 50 rifles, covering a working party of the 3-34th Sikh Pioneers. This covering party was attacked by about 100 of the enemy and was holding them in check, till, owing to the covering parties on his right flank having retired, he was attacked in flank by about 200 of the enemy. By his fine example and able leadership, he inflicted heavy losses on the enemy and brought his party back with the loss of only 16 men. On 21st December this officer again showed gallantry and coolness under heavy fire. His company formed part of a working party. The working party was surrounded and suffered from heavy fire. Though wounded, by his personal example he kept his men in position till ordered to retire.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 10th January 1920. He himself was wounded, and his clothes shot through in many places, but he succeeded in bringing the non-commissioned officer back to safety.

No. 413 Naik Ishar Singh, I.D.S.M., 2nd Battalion, 76th Punjabis.

For conspicuous gallantry on the 6th January 1920. During the retirement he showed great bravery in carrying messages to and from battalion headquarters. Although in an exposed position he succeeded in collecting stretcher parties and getting the wounded into safety.

No. 617 Sepoy Muhammad Bakhsh, 2nd Battalion, 76th Punjabis.

For conspicuous gallantry on the 14th January 1920. He went forward with his Lewis gun under very heavy enemy fire and took up a forward position on a flank from which he fired until his ammunition was exhausted. He obtained more ammunition and, when the Lewis gun team became casualties, he helped to beat off an attack by rushing forward with the gun and firing it at the enemy who were attacking at close range.

Jemadar Bhabesur Gurung, 4th Battalion, 3rd Queen Alexandra's Own Gurkha Rifles.

After carrying another wounded man to a place of safety he returned and resumed his duties with his platoon. His coolness and courage were a fine example to his comrades.

No. 2019 Naik Dalman Rai, 1st Battalion, 7th Gurkha Rifles, attached 3rd Battalion, 11th Gurkha Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry on the 19th February 1920. During the withdrawal the rearguard troops suffered several casualties. Naik Dalman Rai immediately came forward with 6 of his men, and, under heavy enemy fire, crossed the valley to the opposite hill where the wounded were lying. This was done three times and 19 wounded men were brought in. This non-commissioned officer was himself severely wounded while returning for the third time.

Jemadar Kisan Chand, 3rd Battalion, 11th Gurkha Rifles.

URGENT ORDERS.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Derestim, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1/3) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

FOREIGN TRADE.

The 5th June, 1920.

No. 2852.—The following extract from the Board of Trade Journal, dated the 6th May 1920, is re-published for general information.

IMPORT PROHIBITIONS.

The following is a translation of the French Presidential Decree of 23rd April (published in the "Journal Officiel" on 28th April), prohibiting the importation into France and Algeria of a large number of "luxury" and "fancy" articles and products the use of which is optional. Prefixed to the Decree is a Ministerial Report, in which the circumstances which necessitate the measure are explained.

MINISTERIAL REPORT.

Paris, 23rd April, 1920.

An examination of the foreign trades returns of France shows that for the year 1919 the value of imports had risen to almost 30,000,000,000 francs, while the value of the exports was less than 9,000,000,000 francs, that is, only 29 per cent. of the imports. It is universally admitted that this enormous inequality between our purchases and our sales is the chief cause of the fall in the French exchange, and consequently of the increase in the cost of living.

An analysis of the foreign trade figures shows that in 1919, as compared with 1913, imports of foodstuffs and of manufactured articles increased by 26 and 18 per cent. respectively, in weight, and by 374 and 378 per cent. respectively in value. As regards raw materials, the weight of imports was 20 per cent. less than in 1913, but 167 per cent. more in value.

The inflation of values is, however, seen even more strikingly in the case of exports. (As compared with 1913, the tonnage of our exports) in 1919 decreased by 74 per cent., that is, by three-quarters, but nevertheless, the value of the 1919 exports (8,713,000,000 francs) exceeded the value of the 1913 exports (8,880,000,000 francs) by 1,833,000,000 francs, or 26 per cent.

Our trade balance has not improved appreciably during the first three months of 1920, as compared with the corresponding period of 1919. It is true that the value of exports shows an increase of 186½ per cent. (3,384,000,000 francs, as against 1,181,000,000), but this increase does not go far towards restoring the pre-war situation, as the weight of goods exported (2,379,000 tons) was only half that of the first quarter of 1913 (4,750,000 tons); on the other hand imports have increased by a further 22·45 per cent. (7,767,000,000 francs, as against 6,343,000,000 francs); so that the difference between imports and exports during the three months in question reaches the considerable figure of 4,383,000,000 francs, or 129½ per cent. The result is that the prices of goods continue to rise, and that our exchange is in a worse plight than ever before.

As, unfortunately, a sufficient revival of our export trade cannot be looked for while our national production remains so low, the only remedy for this disastrous situation lies in practising the most rigorous economy by limiting both our internal expenses and our foreign purchases to an absolute minimum. But it is obvious that in this matter persuasion alone would be powerless.

Consequently, and in conformity with the statement made, and approved by the Chamber of Deputies, during the discussion on the Bill for providing new sources of revenue, the Government deem it imperative forthwith to impose most stringent restrictions on import.

Other countries whose economic situation is less precarious than that of France have already taken this step. In any case, for our part we realise that the question is vital, for if we continue heedlessly to import unnecessary goods we shall, and that before long, find that we can no longer obtain abroad credits necessary for the purchase of the food-stuffs and raw materials of which we are in absolute need. It is unnecessary to emphasise how terrible the economic and social consequences of such a position would be.

The investigations in regard to this matter which have been made by the Government Departments concerned point to the necessity of prohibiting the import of a whole series of "luxury" or "fancy" articles and products which are not indispensable, so that such articles and products shall be imported only on condition that they are re-exported within a fixed period after having been worked up or repacked in France.

We have the honour to submit herewith the Decree drawn up to give effect to this prohibition, and beg you to be good enough, should you approve, to affix your signature.

REWARDS.

No. 1102.—In pursuance of the authority delegated to him by His Imperial Majesty, The King Emperor, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India makes the following awards for gallantry and distinguished service in the field :—

Awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

Flying Officer (acting Flight Lieutenant) Horace Percy Lale, D.F.C., Royal Air Force.

For gallantry and devotion to duty throughout the recent operations. The following are instances of great gallantry and distinguished conduct displayed by this officer.

On the 10th January he carried out a highly successful reconnaissance over Splo Toi, Shkur Tangi, Deba, and Zir Kach obtaining 72 successful overlaps.

On the 17th January he carried out a bombing and photo reconnaissance near Deracol Camp. He observed about 200 enemy in a nullah and in spite of exceedingly heavy fire from the ground he descended very low and dropped 3 bombs on the tribesmen, and fired 300 rounds of small arms ammunition into them, causing many casualties. He broke up the lashkar entirely. Upon his return it was found that his machine was badly shot about.

On 2nd February he carried out a bombing reconnaissance over Janjai, and obtained 4 O. Ks. on the village, also four bombs on two villages on the west bank of the Tank Zam river. He fired 300 rounds of small arms ammunition in these villages causing much damage.

On the 6th February he carried out a very successful photo reconnaissance over the Dwatoi to Malik Shahi obtaining 42 successful overlaps.

On the 10th February he carried out a highly successful bombing reconnaissance on Maidan and obtained 7 direct hits two of which were on the house of Malik Marwat.

On the 23rd February he carried out another very successful bombing reconnaissance in the course of which he dropped 8 bombs and fired 300 rounds of small arms ammunition on to Maidan and 8 bombs and 120 rounds of small arms ammunition into a village 3 miles N. E. of Sarrorogha, in spite of heavy enemy fire.

On the 20th March he led the squadron formation of 13 machines to raid Sheranni. He led with great precision and judgment and brought the formation very low for bombing in spite of heavy and concentrated fire from the ground. He himself obtained 6 direct hits and fired 150 rounds of small arms ammunition with excellent effect. On this day at least 40 direct hits were obtained on the target.

On the 28th March he carried out a highly successful raid on Wazir encampment on the Speraragha plain and obtained 7 direct hits fired 200 rounds of small arms ammunition causing great panic and many casualties to tribes people, cattle, etc.

Since the 1st November 1919 he has flown over 100 hours war flying and carried out 34 bombing reconnaissances, 4 reconnaissances, and 4 photo reconnaissances.

By his personal gallantry and administrative ability, he has kept his flight in a high state of efficiency, and has set a very fine example to all officers and men under him.

Major Harold Exham, O.B.E., 2nd Battalion, 7th Gurkha Rifles, attached 2nd Battalion, 9th Gurkha Rifles.

For cool courage and fine leadership. On 14th January 1920 when the Commanding Officer of the 2nd Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles, had been killed, and the battalion and accompanying troops had sustained very heavy casualties, this officer was ordered to take over command and by fine leadership and determination he succeeded in holding a position with very few troops against several strongly pressed enemy attacks which were making the situation critical as the loss of the position would have endangered the whole column.

At Makin on 21st February 1920 he commanded the 2nd Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles, and carried out successfully a difficult operation of covering the burning village exposed to heavy sniping fire. He succeeded in extricating his advanced companies and a considerable number of casualties from a difficult position by skilful handling of his troops.

Lieutenant Herbert Archer Fagan, M.C., 2nd Battalion, 9th Gurkha Rifles.

For fine work under fire on several occasions notably at Sarrorogha on 18th January 1920, and at Makin on 18th February 1920. On 18th January this officer was in charge of a company ordered to construct a picquet on the left bank of the Tank Zam. The position was a very exposed one and was commanded by a hill. Lieutenant Fagan set a fine example of disregard of danger in beating off attacks and attempting to construct the picquet under fire. When, owing to the impossibility of establishing the picquet by daylight he was ordered to withdraw he withdrew his company very well with the minimum of loss. Again on 19th February 1920 this officer set a fine example of courage under fire and when troops on the left were forced to withdraw Lieutenant Fagan organised parties, and brought back several casualties and rifles from the advanced position under enemy fire. His conduct on all occasions has been most marked.

Awarded a Bar to the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flying Officer George Ebban Randall, D. F. C., Royal Air Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during the recent operations. The dash and initiative displayed by Flying Officer Randall has been of the highest order and has set a high example to all under him. He has carried out many bomb-raids and co-operation flights and has never hesitated to come down to a very low altitude to make certain of hitting his target. His work on the following occasions is especially brought to notice.

On November 13th, 1919, he carried out a bomb raid on Kaniguram. He descended to under 100 feet, under heavy fire and obtained five hits in the village with bombs, and also fired 500 rounds of small arms ammunition causing many casualties.

On November 20th, 1919 he bombed Matwam-Kikarai Kot and Mandawam from a very low altitude obtaining five direct hits.

On December 18th, 1919 in co-operation with the initial advance on Mandanna Kach Flying Officer Randall made two flights. He and his observer engaged parties of tribesmen in Dotak and Mandanna Kach bombing and firing on them from a height of 100 feet under heavy fire. On both flights he succeeded in causing the enemy to disperse.

On December 20th, 1919 co-operating with the Derajat column he attacked and dispersed enemy parties in the vicinity of Palovina and Mandanna Kach under heavy fire, his machine being much shot about.

On January 15th, 1920 co-operating with troops attacking the Alnai Tangi Flying Officer Randall flew at a very low altitude, bombing and machine gunning tribesmen who were holding up an advance; he flew under continuous and heavy fire, his machine being hit many times. Flying Officer Randall has been flying continually during the present operations, on many days making two and three flights over the enemy.

His keenness and energy have been beyond praise, and his work has been of the greatest value.

Awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flying Officer Edmund Arnold Courtney Britton, Royal Air Force.

During the period 8th August to 31st October 1919 he has carried out five successful bomb raids, dropping his bombs from low altitudes obtaining many direct hits, also three offensive reconnaissances and ten photographic reconnaissances all successfully. On all occasions he has shown the greatest keenness and efficiency in his work, and the example he has set to others is most praiseworthy. On the 22nd October 1919 information was received that a British convoy was being heavily attacked between Shinki and Khajuri Posts. This officer was immediately sent out to make a reconnaissance of the area, he found the convoy in danger of being broken up; he immediately dived on the attacking tribesmen and dropped 8 bombs amongst 50 of the enemy from a very low altitude doing great execution. After this he continued diving on the enemy, firing upon them until his ammunition was finished. It has since been officially intimated that his action saved the convoy.

Awarded the Military Cross.

Lieutenant Maurice Bryer Allsebrook, 2nd Battalion, 9th Gurkha Rifles.

For great gallantry in the presence of the enemy. This officer whilst commanding a company detailed for the taking and occupation of the hill known as Gibraltar near the Berari Tangi on the 28th January showed great disregard for personal danger. Through his fine leadership he succeeded in carrying the hill which had withstood all previous attempts, when near the summit he led his company right up to the covering shell fire of the guns. By the dash and coolness he displayed he encouraged his men forward over ground swept by enemy fire, and enabled the picquet to be established on a most important hill. This officer has previously distinguished himself for fine leadership and disregard for danger on 23rd January 1920 near Sarrorogha. This officer again displayed great courage and devotion to duty in the operations in Makin on 19th February 1920, when he was wounded and evacuated to India.

Captain Aubrey George Albert Barton, 3rd Battalion, 34th Sikh Pioneers.

At Palosina on the 19th December 1919 after the force had retired from Mandanna Hill, he led a volunteer party across the river and in the face of enemy opposition brought in a wounded Indian officer and a copy of the 108th Mahratta Light Infantry. On the 8th January near Kothai his company was isolated during a retirement. By his skill and coolness under fire he extricated his company from a critical situation. On 19th February 1920 at Makin he led a party into a village and blew up two towers in the face of very heavy fire. His coolness and leading encouraged his men and enabled the operation to be carried out successfully and with slight loss.

Lieutenant William Elliott, 27th Mountain Battery.

For gallantry in the presence of the enemy and skilful handling of his section. At Aaa Khan on the 14th January 1920 he brought his section into action in the river bed against the Mahauds' sword rush under very heavy fire. His coolness steadied his men and his prompt action inflicted many casualties on the enemy and restored the morale to our troops at a critical moment.

Captain Neville Godfrey Hind, 2nd Battalion, 2nd King Edward's Own Gurkha Rifles (The Sirmoor Rifles), attached 4th Battalion, 3rd Queen Alexandra's Own Gurkha Rifles.

For devotion to duty and gallantry in the field on 19th February 1920 at Makin. This officer carried out a brilliant attack on a tower. Leaving two platoons to cover his advance, he personally led the other two to the attack. On reaching the tower he found that the enemy's fire from across a nullah was very severe. He then personally attempted to get into the tower and destroy the enemy with bombs in which action he was severely wounded. By his personal behaviour and leadership he was responsible for the successful result of the day's work.

Lieutenant Blair Sterling Mould, 1st Battalion, 2nd King Edward's Own Gurkha Rifles (The Sirmoor Rifles), attached 4th Battalion, 3rd Queen Alexandra's Own Gurkha Rifles.

For devotion and gallantry in action on 17th February at Makin. This officer went forward to the attack on the tower with Captain Hind and took over command when the latter was wounded. He climbed on the base of the tower and broke into an outhouse from which he collected material to set the tower alight. He arranged for the successful evacuation of his wounded under cover of dusk when sniping was heavy. By his efforts the sniping from the enemy tower ceased. By his able handling of the situation after his company Commander was hit, the enemy was destroyed and the action brought to a successful termination.

Lieutenant Jim Willoughby Hyde Harrison, 2nd Battalion, 1st King George's Own Gurkha Rifles (The Malaun Regiment), attached 2nd Battalion, 9th Gurkha Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry in action and devotion to duty during the withdrawal down the Badder Toi on the 1st April 1920. His company had been ordered to withdraw, but the enemy followed up closely and the rear party came under heavy fire suddenly and at close range. Lieutenant Harrison with a few men of the last platoon remained behind to assist another unit in the withdrawal of a picquet. By doing so he enabled the picquet to withdraw without a casualty but it necessitated him and his party remaining behind until the enemy were close upon them. He succeeded in checking the enemy's advance, but had to expose himself to great danger and was severely wounded in the thigh. By his sense of duty he undoubtedly saved a considerable number of casualties.

Captain Henry Darrell Minchinton, 1st Battalion, 1st King George's Own Gurkha Rifles (The Malaun Regiment), attached 2nd Battalion, 9th Gurkha Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry in action and fine leadership during the withdrawal down the Badder Toi on the 8th April 1920. When his company had been ordered to retire through the rear guard party the enemy followed up closely and suddenly opened a hot fire at close range. Captain Minchinton remained behind with a few men who had not already withdrawn and assisted in the withdrawal of a picquet of another unit. When forced to retire to a less exposed position in the rear he went forward again with a non-commissioned officer to recover a casualty and covered the bringing in of the wounded man by giving covering fire himself. By his sense of duty and disregard of danger he materially assisted the bringing in of a picquet under difficult circumstances besides checking the enemy and helping to bring in wounded men who would otherwise have fallen into the enemy's hands.

Captain Naval Mansoorji Pestonji Dotiwalla, Indian Medical Service (Temporary Commission), attached 2nd Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles (Frontier Force.)

For most conspicuous gallantry in action at Sarrorogha on 18th January 1920 and at Makin on 26th February 1920. On both occasions he displayed the greatest gallantry and disregard for danger in his care of the wounded during action. He set a very fine example to all and is most thoroughly deserving of reward.

Lieutenant (acting Captain) Walter Sherrard Smith, Indian Army Reserve of Officers, attached 1st Battalion, 55th Coke's Rifles (Frontier Force).

At Kaniguram on the 6th, 7th and 8th March 1920, this officer showed great gallantry and devotion to duty. On the 6th March 1920 he first led the search with his company through the intricate village of Kaniguram, where snipers were known to be hiding, losing some men whilst doing so, he then helped to build the picquet on the hill beyond the village being under heavy fire the whole time, and having many casualties. On 7th March 1920, a second attempt was made by Lieutenant Smith to complete the picquet and ration it. The enemy were sniping heavily all round and it was only possible to put in a certain amount of supplies into the picquet, and to get this accomplished Lieutenant Smith went up each time with each party of men carrying rations under fire. Finally on 8th March 1920, Lieutenant Smith again went out to strengthen the picquet and ration it. This time the building and rationing was completed by Lieutenant Smith who was severely wounded. This officer showed splendid determination, grit and courage in completing the picquet and set a fine example to all ranks.

Captain Eric Alfred Bald, 3rd Battalion, 11th Gurkha Rifles.

For most conspicuous gallantry in action, devotion to duty and leadership. On the 8th April 1920 during the withdrawal from Sina Tiza camp this officer with two runners and two road sentries of his company, together with the Officer Commanding, Rear Guard, and his four runners, displayed the most conspicuous gallantry and personal bravery in conducting the withdrawal of one of his picquets, personally bringing in to shelter a wounded officer of another battalion who was hit by his side and finally assisting in repulsing the close attack of the enemy who had reached within 30 yards of him. Lieutenant J. H. Harrison (the wounded officer) without question owes his life to the way in which Captain Bald acted at a most critical moment.

No. 1104.—The following rewards have been granted to the undermentioned for acts of gallantry or devotion to duty in the field while serving with the Waziristan Force :—

Jemadar Indra Bir Khan, 2nd Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles (Frontier Force).

For conspicuous gallantry on the 14th January 1920. Jemadar Indra Bir Khan controlled his platoon in a most fearless manner throughout the day in spite of five determined attacks on his position. No. 8194 Lance-Naik Debi Sing Thapa, 2nd Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles (Frontier Force).

For conspicuous gallantry on the 20th February 1920. He set a fine example of self sacrifice and devotion to duty.

No. 3938 Rifleman Kuman Sing Gurung, 2nd Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles (Frontier Force).

For conspicuous gallantry on the 20th February 1920. During a retirement Rifleman Kuman Sing Gurung went back twice and brought in a wounded comrade and the rifle and equipment of other wounded men. By his utter disregard of his own personal safety he set a fine example to his company.

No. 3998 Rifleman Tilohand Thapa, 2nd Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles (Frontier Force).

For conspicuous gallantry on the 17th February 1920. He was severely wounded in the ankle whilst carrying an important despatch from his company's main position to an advanced party about 200 yards ahead. Although unable to walk he crawled forward, delivered the message, and returned with the answer under heavy fire. He set a splendid example of devotion to duty and disregard of danger.

No. 1535 Havildar Nain Bahadur Sunwar, 1st Battalion, 7th Gurkha Rifles, attached 3rd Battalion, 11th Gurkha Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry on the 19th February 1920. During a retirement it became necessary to recover certain dead and wounded who were lying in advance of this non-commissioned officer's company. Havildar Nain Bahadur Sunwar took out a rescue party and made two trips down the forward slope of a hill, and across a valley 300 feet below the enemy, under very heavy sniping fire, and succeeded in bringing in four wounded men. His conspicuous gallantry and leadership inspired his party and enabled the wounded men to be saved from certain death.

No. 4606 Rifleman Manbahadur Chand, 2nd Battalion, 9th Gurkha Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry on the 15th February 1920. During an attack he dashed into the open under very heavy fire from 200 yards, and carried his company officer, who had been badly wounded, into cover. RESOLUTION.

PENSIONS AND GRATUITIES.

The 18th June, 1920.

No. 1003-C.S.R.—In Resolution No. 714-C.S.R., dated the 10th May 1920, it was announced that with a view to the exact scope of the new pension rules published in Resolution No. 1085-E.A., dated the 15th November 1919, being made clear the Government of India intended to publish those rules in the form of amendments to the Civil Service Regulations. The accompanying amendments to the Regulations are now published for general information.

2. At the end of Schedule B showing appointments carrying additional pensions published with Resolution No. 1085-E.A., dated the 15th November 1919, it was stated that any other pensionable appointment not included in the schedule the minimum substantive pay of which is not less than Rs. 1,500 a month would qualify for an additional pension on the lower scale. This statement did not, however, correctly interpret the orders of the Secretary of State. The Departments in which appointments had already been specified in Schedule B had been considered as a whole and those appointments which were regarded as deserving an additional pension had already been definitely included. It was not the intention of the Secretary of State that appointments in such Departments even though carrying a minimum substantive pay of Rs. 1,500 should automatically become entitled to the special additional pension. This has been made clear in the rules now published. But at the same time the Secretary of State has granted to the Government of India the power to admit appointments in such Departments the minimum substantive pay of which is not less than Rs. 1,500 a month and the Government of India will be prepared to consider any such cases on their merits.

ORDERED that the Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India (including the Financial Adviser, Military Finance, and the Board of Industries and Munitions); to all Provincial Governments and Minor Local Governments; to the Comptroller and Auditor General; to the Heads of Departments subordinate to the Finance Department; to all Accountants General; to the Comptroller, Assam; to the Chief Auditors of State Railways and Government Examiners of Railway Accounts; to the Examiner of Accounts, Military Works Services; to the Examiner of Press Accounts; to the Controller of War Accounts; to the Audit Officer, Delhi Province; and to the Examiner of Customs Accounts.

ORDERED also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

URGENT ORDERS.

The Import and Export Licensing Section, Board of Trade, announces that firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted or the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Import and Export Licensing Section (Board of Trade) the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Derestim, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1/3) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to The Director, Import and Export Licensing Section, Board of Trade, Great George Street, S.W. 1.

(2) For the purpose of sub-section (1), the rent shall be deemed to have accrued from day to day.

7. In the case of any alteration of the terms of the tenancy of any premises the rent for the purpose of this Law shall be deemed to be increased or not increased according as the result of the alteration is or is not, on the whole, less favourable to the tenant, whether the sum payable as rent is increased or not.

8. (1) It shall not be lawful for any person, in consideration of the grant, renewal or continuance of a tenancy of any premises, to require the payment of any fine, premium or any other like sum or consideration in addition to the rent.

(2) Where any order for the recovery of possession of any premises has been made under the proviso to sub-section (1) on the ground that the premises are reasonably and bona fide required by the landlord either for the erection of buildings or for his own occupation or for the occupation of any person for whose benefit the premises are held and the premises are not used for the erection of buildings or occupied by the aforesaid persons within six months of the order or are re-let within the same period to any person other than the original tenant, the Court by which the order was made may, on the application of the original tenant, place him in occupation of the premises on the original terms and conditions and direct payment to him by the landlord of such compensation as the Court may think fit.

(3) The fact that the period of the lease has expired, or that the interest of the landlord in the premises has terminated, shall not of itself be deemed to be a satisfactory cause within the meaning of the proviso to sub-section (1).

10. (1) Where any sum has been paid on account of rent which is by reason of the provisions of this Law irrecoverable, such sum shall be recovered at any time within a period of six months after the date of payment be recoverable by the tenant by whom it was paid from the landlord who received the payment or his legal representative, and may without prejudice to any other method of recovery be deducted by such tenant from any rent payable within such six months by him to such landlord.

(2) In this section the expression "landlord" includes in the case of joint family property, the joint family of which the landlord, if deceased, was a member.
